KEY TO SYMBOLS

ACCENTS and HYPHENS—The principal accent is indicated by a heavy mark (´), and the secondary accent by a lighter mark (˘), at the end of the syllable. Syllable division is indicated by a centered period, except where this is replaced by an accent mark or by a hyphen used to join the members of words written or printed with a hyphen.

SPECIAL NOTICES

In this Catalogue we present a listing of such adhesive stamps as are considered by us to have been issued for postal purposes. We have not included telegraph stamps, revenue stamps or postal stationery other than those of the United States.

In order to facilitate identification we have adopted a style of listing of which one example is given:

United States

230 A71 1c deep blue..... .35 .04

The number (230) in the first column is the index or identification number; the letter and number (A71) indicates the design and refers to the illustration having this (A71) designation; next comes the denomination (1c) followed by the color (deep blue); the prices are in two columns at the right, the first (.35) being that of an uncanceled stamp and the last (.04) of a canceled one.

When a perforation or watermark is mentioned, the description applies to all succeeding listings until a change is noted.

When a stamp is printed in black on colored paper, the color of the paper alone is given in italics.

ABBREVIATIONS

The most frequently used abbreviations are:

Imperf.	= Imperforate
Perf.	= Perforated
Wmkd.	= Watermarked
Unwmkd.	= Unwatermarked

A. = Asia; AF. = Africa; C.A. = Central America; E. = Europe; N.A. = North America; O. = Oceanica; S.A. = South America; W.I. = West Indies.

When no color is given for an overprint or surcharge, it is understood to be in black. Abbreviations are sometimes used, as (B) Black, (Bl) Blue, (R) Red, (G) Green, etc.

NEW ISSUE LISTINGS

A Chronicle of New Issues, constituting a monthly supplement to this Catalogue, appears regularly in Scott's Monthly Journal. This Chronicle includes all new issues as received by us and judged worthy of recognition. When doubt exists as to the status of a stamp or series, mention is made under the caption "Tentative Listings." Such items may or may not be included in subsequent editions of the Catalogue, according to later information received.

CONDITION

Prices quoted refer to stamps in fine condition. In most instances extra fine copies bring higher prices. Also in most cases, unused stamps with full original gum sell for more than copies without gum or with partial gum. Prices given in this Catalogue for unused stamps are for specimens which have at least part of the original gum on the back, except, of course, those varieties which were issued without gum. Stamps with slight defects such as off-center, heavily canceled, faded color or stained specimens are usually sold at large discounts. Damaged stamps, i.e., those which are torn or mutilated or have serious thin spots are not desired by advanced collectors and seldom bring more than a very small fraction of the price of a fine specimen.

Standards of condition vary greatly in the stamps of different countries. Early United States, Great Britain and Victoria stamps, for example, were poorly perforated and as a rule heavily canceled and cannot be obtained in as fine condition as stamps from countries where more care was taken in perforating and lighter cancellations applied.

PRICES

The prices appearing in this Catalogue were determined during May to August, 1939, by careful study of wholesale and retail offerings of dealers throughout the world and a thorough analysis of foreign catalogues, together with recommendations and information submitted by many of the leading philatelic societies of the world. These and other factors were considered in determining the figures which the editors consider represent the proper normal price basis for a fine specimen when offered by an informed dealer to an informed buyer. Sales are frequently made at lower figures occasioned by individual bargaining, changes in popularity, temporary over-supply, local custom, the "vest pocket dealer," or the many other reasons which cause deviations from any accepted standard. Sales at higher prices are usually because of exceptionally fine condition, unusual postal markings, unexpected political changes or newly discovered information. While the minimum price of a stamp is fixed at 2c to cover the dealer's labor and service cost of assorting, cataloging and filling orders individually, the sum of these list prices does not properly represent the "value" of a packet of unsorted or unmounted stamps sold in bulk which generally consists of only the cheaper stamps.

Prices in Italics indicate infrequent sales and consequent lack of definite information.

Price Changes affecting this Catalogue are published in Scott's Monthly Journal.

The editors will welcome any data or information relating to changing market conditions and in return will gladly advise as to possible sources from which stamps listed in this Catalogue may be obtained at the prices quoted.

HOW TO ORDER FROM YOUR DEALER

It is not necessary to write the full description of a stamp as listed in this Catalogue. All that is needed is the name of the country, the index number and whether unused or used. Example:

"U. S. 230 unused"

is sufficient to identify the stamp of United States listed as

"230 A71 1c deep blue"

Because of the many changes of numbers in this edition it would be well to advise when ordering that the numbers used are from the 1940 Scott Catalogue.

REPRINTS

These are usually noted though not, as a rule, priced in this Catalogue as few collectors desire them. They are mostly the product of private parties who obtained the plates from the issuing government and printed further supplies for sale to collectors. Examples are the many issues of Ecuador, Nicaragua and Salvador between 1890 and 1899 produced by N. F. Seebeck, which were extensively reprinted in later years.

Reprints must not be confused with re-issues, the latter being later issues by the government and available for postal duty.

EXAMINATION

Because of the time required and the responsibility involved in examining stamps for others, the publishers of this Catalogue cannot undertake to pass upon genuineness or condition of stamps or to make appraisals, but will gladly put collectors in touch with responsible individuals or committees who do this work.

NEW FEATURES

RENUMBERING

In previous editions of the Catalogue the numbering has been in numerical sequence under each country, leaving a gap between the different groups, i.e., Semi-Postals, Air Post, etc., to allow for the addition of new issues. This has been satisfactory until recent years when these gaps have been rapidly closing up. It was inevitable that a new method of numbering be adopted and, after a thorough study of the problem and careful consideration of the many suggestions sent in by collectors, the following system has been incorporated in this edition.

Stamps issued for regular postage are indicated by numbers only, without prefix letters, the same as heretofore with the exception of some re-arrangement necessary to group stamps of a like design together.

All other groups are likewise numbered consecutively, starting with No. 1 but the numeral carries a prefix letter denoting its classification. Thus, Semi-Postals start with B1, Air Posts with C1, while Semi-Postal Air Post stamps have the two-letter prefix CB, etc. After studying the accompanying table a collector should soon be able to determine at a glance into which classification a stamp falls by simply looking at the catalogue number.

The regular postal issues of each country are followed by the other groups in the alphabetical order of the prefix letter or letters. No single country has all of the groups; the majority have only a few. The flexibility of the system is such, however, that new groups can be added, if and as they appear, without disturbing the present listings.

The prefixes, in the alphabetical order of their use in the Catalogue, are as follows:

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS

It has become increasingly evident to the publishers that collectors are interested in the method of printing used to produce the stamps and with this in view such information appears in part for the first time in this edition. Because of the amount of research involved, only the British Colonies and approximately the first third of the Catalogue were completed. It is intended that the balance will be included in the next edition.

Methods of printing, perforations, types of watermark, etc., when listed at the beginning of an issue, apply to the issues following until a change is shown. The only exceptions are the surcharged and overprinted varieties. In this case the information may be found by referring to the original listing of the basic stamps.

Most of the tentative listings formerly located in the back of the Catalogue are now mentioned under the country of origin. In no case will they be given recognition until it has been satisfactorily established that they were issued primarily for postal purposes.

Errors formerly having major numbers have been given minor numbers subordinate to the normal stamp.

The term "Surcharge" has been restricted to apply to only such an overprint as alters the face value of the stamp to which it was applied.

Many other improvements are being planned for the 1941 and later editions.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We wish to extend our sincere gratitude to the many friends who have aided us in our task of making this Catalogue more nearly complete and accurate. The co-operation extended to us this year has been much greater than ever before and we are deeply appreciative. We regret the impossibility of naming all who have aided by giving to us of their knowledge.

We must, however, mention the outstanding and invaluable aid extended again this year by such organizations as the BUREAU ISSUES ASSOCIATION, the SOUVENIR ISSUES ASSOCIATION, the various units of the AMERICAN PHILATELIC SOCIETY, and the co-operation now being given by the POLONUS PHILATELIC SOCIETY, the RUSSIAN PHILATELIC SOCIETY ("ROSSICA") and others. Also to the G. and C. Merriam Company, publishers of Webster's New International Dictionary for their generous assistance in all matters of pronunciation, spelling and factual information.

To any and all who have helped or will help us toward our goal of perfection we extend heartfelt thanks.

Information for Collectors

To the novice in philately many terms and expressions used in stamp collecting may be difficult of comprehension, and, while to the more advanced collector they have become like household words, a little explanation to the beginner will no doubt be welcome. The principal characteristics of a stamp can always be divided into well defined heads: paper, watermark, separation, impression, design and gum. We will take these seriatim and explain the meaning of the terms used in describing each characteristic.

PAPER. The fibres most used for paper on which stamps are printed are linen and cotton rags, straw, wool and certain grasses. These fibres are prepared by grinding, bleaching, beating and boiling until they are reduced to a fluid pulp. Thin coatings of this pulp are then placed on sieve-like frames which allow the water to run off and retain the matted pulp. Size, or weak glue, and coloring matter may be added to the pulp, and after drying, the paper may be subjected to mechanical processes, such as passing it between smooth or engraved rolls, subjecting it to great pressure, heat, etc., and its appearance and properties are thus modified. The frame in which the pulp is first caught or the surface on which the pulp is fed determines the texture of the paper. If this surface is smooth and even, composed of felt or blanket, the paper will be of uniform texture throughout, showing no light or dark figures when held against the light. This is called wove paper. If the frame is of fine wire netting, the paper will show little light dots or points, very close together and is called wire wove. Wire wove paper, being the common form to-day, is known generally as wove paper.

If the frame has parallel wires it is evident that a greater thickness of pulp will settle between these wires, and that the paper when held to the light will show alternate light and dark lines. This is known as laid paper. The distance apart and the thickness of the lines vary but on any one piece of paper they are all alike. If there are only a few light lines in the substance of the paper at a considerable distance apart, like the ruling on writing paper, it is called batonné from the French "baton," a staff. Batonné paper may be either wove or laid, in the latter case fine laid lines show between the "batons." The laid lines may form geometrical figures, such as squares, rectangles, diamonds, or may be wavy. When the lines form squares the paper is called "quadrille carré," a French term which seems to have no equivalent in English, although the term quadrille paper is sometimes used. When the lines form rectangles instead of squares, the paper is called "oblong quadrille," also a French term. Paper is also distinguished as thick or thin, hard or soft, and by its color, as bluish, yellowish, greenish, etc. Pelure paper is a very thin, semi-transparent paper, which may be either wove or laid. Native papers of India, Japan and China are made of silk or rice fibre, and present a distinctive appearance and feel. The paper in which the little Japanese toys are wrapped is native paper. Manila paper is a coarse paper made of manila hemp fibre. It is used for cheaper grades of envelopes and newspaper wrappers. It is usually of a light brown color, sometimes it is colored, as in the United States amber Manila envelopes. It may be wove or laid. Silk paper in philately is of two kinds; first, that in which one or more threads of silk imbedded in the substance of the paper extend across the stamp. In the catalogues this style of paper is usually designated as "with silk threads." Many United States revenues are on paper which has short silk fibres strewn over it and impressed into it, during manufacture. This is called simply, silk paper. When the fibres are so small as to be scarcely distinguishable by the eye and worked into the substance of the paper it is called granite paper or sicurian paper. Some of the Swiss stamps show the granite paper well. As a protection against counterfeiting the paper may be colored through and through with a sensitive color as seen in the 1887-92 2½p, 3p and 6p of Great Britain, or it may receive a coating of some soluble substance which readily washes off, carrying the design of the stamp with it, as in the case of the early issues of Russia, some of Italy, etc. Double paper has been experimentally used, consisting of a very thin sheet pasted to a thicker one. Any attempt to wash the stamp separates the two sheets. Gold-beater's skin was used for the 1866 issue of Prussia and the design printed on the back of the transparent surface. Ribbed paper presents rough parallel lines on both front and back and is usually made by passing it through rolls which have fine corrugations cut upon them. Paper having very heavy laid lines may sometimes present the characteristics of ribbed paper.

WATERMARKS are closely allied to the paper, as they are usually formed in the process of manufacturing the paper. Watermarks consist of small designs such as crowns, stars, anchors, etc., which are formed of wire or cut from metal and soldered to the frame on which the pulp is caught or to a roll under which it is passed. The action of these is similar to that of the wires causing the laid lines, the designs making thin places in the paper which show by transmitted light. The best method to detect them is to lay the stamp face down on a bit of ferrotype plate or something having a black surface and wet it freely with refined deodorized benzine, which brings up the watermark in dark lines against a lighter background. In many stamps the watermark forms a large design covering several stamps. Tuscany and Russia are good examples, and it is interesting to try and reconstruct the entire watermark with a number of stamps each showing only a portion of it. On many if not most sheets of watermarked paper for printing stamps, there are lines forming a border and dividing the sheets into halves or quarters, called panes. Outside of the border the name of the country is often formed in large letters, and if the sheet is carelessly fed to the press, parts of these lines and letters will show as watermarks on the stamps of the outer rows. These often puzzle beginners, but the stamps have no special interest. Some stamps are printed on paper bought from a paper maker's stock instead of being specially made, and such paper may have the monogram or design of the maker watermarked on a portion of it. Some of the stamps printed on such paper would show a watermark, while others would show none. The stamp collector should accustom himself from the very beginning to study the watermarks of his stamps.

SEPARATION is the general term applied to the means provided for separating the stamps. The earliest issues did not have any means provided for separating, and the stamps were usually cut apart with scissors. Such stamps are called imperforate or unperforated. As many stamps at first issued imperforate were afterwards issued perforated, care must be observed in buying the imperforate stamps to see that they are really imperforate and not perforated copies which have been trimmed. The margins on all four sides should be wide and the total width of the stamp greater than the distance from hole to hole of the perforated ones. An unsevered pair showing the paper between the two stamps intact is of course undisputable evidence of their imperforate character. Separations are effected by two general methods, rouletting and perforating. In rouletting the paper is cut partly or wholly through but no paper is removed; in perforating a part of the paper is removed. Rouletting derives its name from the French roulette, a small wheel, like the rowel of a spur, which is passed over the paper, causing each point of the roulette to cut a short incision through the paper. It is obvious that if the points of the wheel are not straight lines the cuts will correspond to their shape, and this gives rise to a variety of roulettes known generally by their French names. The following are the most common:

Percé en lignes; German in Linien durchstochen; English, rouletted, or rouletted in lines. In this style of rouletting the paper receives short straight cuts in lines. The number of cuts in two centimetres determines the gauge of the roulette. This is fully explained under "Perforation."

Percé en points; German, in Punkten durchstochen; English, pin perforated. In this case, round, equidistant holes are pricked through the paper, but no paper is removed, and this distinguishes it from a small perforation. The English term, "pin perforation," is not a happy one, as this separation is a roulette and not a perforation.

Percé en arc; German, bogenförmiger Durchstich. There is no English equivalent for this style of roulette, and the French "perce en arc" is used. In this case a row of small semi-circles is cut which do not quite touch at the ends of the curved lines. When two stamps, perce en arc, are separated, one shows an edge with rounded projections and the other with rounded depressions.

Information for Collectors

Percé en scie; German, sägenartiger Durchstich; English, sawtooth roulette, or sawtooth perforation, but frequently the French term is used. In this style of roulette the cuts resemble sawteeth, forming small triangles instead of half circles, as in the perce en arc.

Percé en serpentín; German, schlangenartiger Durchstich; English, serpentine perforation. In this style the cuts form a serpentine or wavy line.

Percé en losanges; German, Rautendurchstich; English, lozenge perforation. In this style the teeth of the roulette are diamond shaped and partly cut and partly punch small diamond shaped holes. In heraldry this shape is known as a lozenge.

Perforation. The second chief style of separation of stamps, and the one which to-day is in universal use, is called perforating. By this process the paper between the stamps is cut away in a line of holes, usually round, leaving little bridges of paper between the stamps to hold them together until they are to be separated. These little bridges are called the teeth of the perforation, and of course project from the stamp when it is torn from the sheet. As the size of the perforation is often a guide to the date of issue of the stamp, it is necessary to measure them and describe them by a gauge number. Thus we say a stamp is perforated 12 or 13½. This does not mean that there are 12 or 13½ perforations on the side or end of the stamp, but that 12 or 13½ perforations can be counted in the space of two centimetres. This space has been arbitrarily adopted by collectors the world over as the length in which perforation shall be measured, and the number of perforations (each one consisting of a depression and a projection) in two centimetres is called the gauge of that perforation. Thus a stamp perforated 12 would have perforations of such size, that twelve of them would measure exactly two centimetres. United States stamps from 1861 to 1912 were perforated 12, and give readily obtained material for testing the above rule. The publishers of this catalogue sell accurately printed gauges for measuring perforations. A perforation with small holes and teeth close together is called a fine perforation; one with large holes and teeth far apart is called a coarse perforation; and one in which the holes are not clean cut, but jagged, is called a rough perforation. In some cases the gauge of the perforation on the sides of a stamp differs from that of the top and bottom, and such stamps are said to have compound perforations. In measuring compound perforations the gauge of the top is usually given first and then the gauge of the sides of the stamp.

IMPRESSION. The methods employed in printing stamps include all three basic forms of printing, viz. Intaglio, Lithography and Typography.

Intaglio, (Engraving). In engraving the plates for stamps the design is first cut on a matrix or hub of soft steel, which is then hardened and transferred by pressure to either copper or steel plates. The expressions, engraved in taille douce, line engraved and steel plate, all designate substantially the same processes for producing an engraved stamp. Ordinarily in these processes the ink is received and held in lines depressed below the surface of the plate, and in printing from these plates the damp paper is forced down into the depressed lines and absorbs the color. In consequence the lines on the face of the stamp are slightly raised, and seen from the back of the stamp, are slightly depressed. On the other hand, the plates may be engraved in such a manner that the ink will be applied to the raised surfaces and the stamps typographed. This method was used in making impressions from the early engraved woodblocks. The term "engraved" however, as used in the catalogue, refers to the former process. When the ornamental work is engraved by a machine, it is called engine turned or lathe work engraving. The common 3c U. S. of 1861 is a good example of lathe work background, and frequently shows very clearly the depression of the lines of the design when the back of the stamp is examined.

Typography is the exact reverse of engraved plate printing. In this process the parts of the design which are to show in color are left at the original level of the plate and the spaces between are cut away. The ink is applied to the raised lines on the plate and the pressure of printing forces these lines more or less into the paper, impressing the colored lines on the face of the stamp and slightly raising them on the back of the stamp. In practice a large number of electrotypes of the original are made and assembled together into a plate with the requisite number of designs for printing a sheet of stamps. Stamps printed by this method show great uniformity, and the process is cheaper than engraving and plate printing.

Type set stamps are printed from ordinary printer's type just as a book or newspaper is printed. Sometimes electrotype or stereotype plates are made, but as such stamps are usually printed only in small quantities for temporary use, movable type is often used for the purpose. This method of printing is apt to show great lack of uniformity and much broken type.

Embossed printing is a method in which the design is sunk in the metal of the die and the printing is done against a yielding platen such as leather, which is forced up into the depressions of the die thus forming the design on the paper in relief. Embossing may be done without color, as in the second issue of Italy, or with part color and part colorless, as the U. S. Current envelopes and the stamps of Bavaria.

Rotary Press Printings (Intaglio). These are stamps which have been printed on a rotary type press from curved plates as compared to stamps printed from flat plates on a flat bed press. Rotary press stamps are longer or wider than the same stamps printed from flat plates.

Photogravure (Intaglio), also known as "rotary photogravure," "rotary gravure," "rotogravure," "rotoprint," "gravure," "hellogravure," and "rototaglio." A rapid process of reproduction, being introduced during the last few years and rapidly finding favor among stamp-issuing countries. Stamps of Great Britain are examples. Reproductions are made by photographic process through a screen, similar in effect to the half-tone illustrations used in high-grade magazines, but differing in that the lines of the screen are much thinner and appear in white instead of black or opaque, thus making them practically invisible to the eye.

Lithography or offset printing is a common process for printing stamps. In this method the design is drawn by hand or transferred from an original engraving to the surface of a lithographic stone, or metal plate in greasy ink. The stone or plate is wet with an acid fluid which causes it to repel the printing ink except on the greasy lines of the design. A fine lithographic print closely resembles an engraving, but the lines are not raised on the face or depressed on the back, and there is usually a duller appearance in the lithograph than in the engraving. Passing the edge of the finger nail lightly over the lines of the design will sometimes assist in distinguishing a lithographed from an engraved stamp.

When a plate or die is worn, it is sometimes retouched by hand and the worn lines deepened and strengthened. The plate is then known as a re-engraved or retouched plate. Some governments have printed stamps which are no longer current from the old plates and sold them to collectors. These impressions are called government reprints or official reprints. In some cases the plates have passed into the hands of private persons who make and sell impressions from them; these are known as private reprints. Such reprints are comparatively worthless to the collector, and the beginner especially is warned against them. Their price as a rule is only a fraction of the price of original. When a stamp remains current for a long time and is printed in large quantities, a number of plates are prepared, and these usually show on the margin or sometimes on the stamp a designating number. Such numbers are called plate numbers. In the earlier stamps of Great Britain these plate numbers show on the face of the stamp and the value of the stamp varies according to the plate number. In the stamps of the United States the plate numbers are on the margin of the sheet, and in recent years collectors have sought the stamps which show these numbers on the margin. Engravers, in making dies often place little marks on them by which they can identify their work. Such marks are known as engravers' mark or secret marks. Much interest was aroused by the discovery that the United States stamps issued in 1873 show secret marks which distinguish them from the issues of 1870-71. These and other intentional or unintentional differences in stamps which are in general alike are called varieties, and are much sought after by advanced collectors and specialists. Fac similes and imitations of stamps made and sold by private individuals are called counterfeits, and are of course utterly worthless, being made only to get money from unwary collectors. Many of them are made with such consummate skill that their detection is difficult, so that until the young collector has learned to trust his own powers of observation and comparison, he should purchase stamps only from a well known and reliable dealer who guarantees their genuineness.

BI-COLORED STAMPS are those printed in two colors, in which a central picture in one color is surrounded by ornamental inscriptions or framing of another color. The high value of the 1869 United States issue and many Congo Free State, Liberia and Horned issues are examples of bi-colored stamps. In bi-colored stamps two printings are required, and if the sheet is fed to the press upside down, after one color has been printed, the part printed in the second color will of course be upside down and the stamps will have inverted centers.

SE-TENANT, from the French meaning "joined together," is used in speaking of an uncovered part of stamps of different values or of different design, or with different types of surcharge or overprint.

TETE BECHE. If in making up a plate of electrotypes, one or more single electrotypes are put in upside down, they will give rise to what are known as tete beche pairs, in which the top of one stamp will be where the bottom should be. Of course, if the inverted stamp is by itself, it cannot be distinguished from any other stamp of the sheet.

In many issues of Great Britain the location of each stamp in the sheet is shown by the letters in the corners, and it is possible to get a stamp of each of the 240 varieties in the sheet and thus reconstruct it. In many other stamps such as the 1850 issue of New South Wales there are small differences of engraving in each stamp, which render the making of reconstructed sheets possible.

DOUBLE IMPRESSIONS are stamps showing all the lines printed twice, and are caused by an oversight in the printing by which the sheet receives two impressions. Sometimes a stamp is printed in the wrong color, or one or more electrotypes of the wrong stamp are put into a plate by mistake, as was done in the case of the 1p and 3p triangular Cape of Good Hope, 1861 issue, where each stamp is found in the color of the other. Stamps may be printed on paper with the wrong watermark or on the wrong colored paper. All such mistakes produce stamp errors; an error being a stamp having some unintentionable peculiarity.

PRINTED ON BOTH SIDES. Occasionally a sheet of stamps already printed will, through error, be turned over and passed through the press a second time, thus creating the rare "printed on both sides" variety. This is often confused with an offset which occurs when sheets of stamps are stacked while the ink is still wet. There is, however, an outstanding difference; the "printed on both sides" variety shows a positive design (all inscriptions reading correctly) on both sides of the paper. An offset shows a reverse impression on the back of the stamp, that is, all wording, etc., reading backward.

PRECANCELS. These are stamps to which cancellations have been applied by the government prior to their being sold for use; as a means of expediting the handling of large quantity mailings. In the United States precancellations are generally an arrangement of parallel bars within which appears the name of the city and state from which the stamps are to be used. In France the word Affranchis in a semi-circle together with the word Postes is the general form. Belgium precancellations are usually a square box in which appears the name of the city. Netherlands' precancellations have the name of the city enclosed between a large and small circle, sometimes called a "life-saver." Precancellations of other countries follow along these general lines, but may be any general arrangement of bars, boxes and city names, or otherwise.

STAMPLESS COVERS. Prior to the issuance of United States government adhesive postage stamps, and for sometime thereafter, letters were mailed "collect" or, postage was prepaid in cash. In such instances the covers often bear in addition to the town postmark, notations such as "Paid," "Paid 10," etc. The tyro is apt to confuse these stampless covers with the rare postmasters' provisionals issued prior to government stamps.

While many of these covers have no great commercial value they are of historical value to collectors interested in the postal history and operations of the United States Post Office Department.

SURCHARGED and OVERPRINTED STAMPS, or SURCHARGES and OVERPRINTS, as they are called "for short," are stamps on which a new value or name has been printed to render them available for some purpose not originally intended. The designation "surcharge" is used only when the overprinting involves a change in the value of the stamp in question. Surcharges and overprints are usually type set and printed in black but they may occasionally be found lithographed or even engraved. "Cyprus" is printed on stamps of Great Britain used in Cyprus. Salvador has hidden a mistake of the engraver by an overprint. Spain put a fantastic ornamental overprint on her colonial stamps to confine their use to a certain colony, and Peru overprinted her stamps with a portrait of General Hernandez. The postal officials of many countries distribute sample sets of their stamps, and to prevent their use in the mails these stamps are overprinted "Specimen," "Cancelled," &c. Some countries sell off their stock of old stamps when a new issue takes their place and cancel the stamps with a punch hole or by printing a heavy line or bar across the face.

Stamps which are prepared and printed as experiments are called proofs, and stamps left over and sold after they are no longer available for postage are called remainders. Designs submitted but not used are called errors. The colors in which stamps are printed are usually of mineral origin, and any color may occur in a variety of shades. Some shades are much rarer than the others. The collecting of these shades of color of the same stamp is much followed by advanced collectors. Some colors are permanent, that is, they are not affected seriously by light or water, while others fade or change tone from either or both. Such colors are known as fugitive colors. The gum on the back of a stamp is for affixing it to the letters, and is distinguished as dark gum, white gum, colored gum, smooth gum and crinkly gum. Stamps having full original gum sell for more than those from which the gum has been removed. Some countries color the gum red, &c., and reprints are very apt to have the gum differing from that of the originals. Formerly a great many stamps were cut to shape because some of the earlier albums contained spaces which compelled this mutilation to make the stamp fit the space. It is needless to say that the value of the stamps is thus greatly reduced.

The various classes of stamps are indicated by their names, as postage stamps, revenue or fiscal stamps, telegraph stamps, postage due stamps, (French, timbres taxe; German, Postmarken) for indicating unpaid postage to be collected before the letter is delivered; too late stamps, for paying a special fee for forwarding a letter after the regular mail has closed; registration stamps, for paying the fee for keeping a special record of the letter or ensuring its delivery; special delivery stamps, for ensuring delivery of the letter in advance of the regular delivery; express stamps, which are substantially the same as special delivery stamps. With the exception of regular postage all numbers include a prefix letter denoting the class to which the stamp belongs. Some countries have permitted a stamp to be cut in two or more parts and to pass at the fraction of their original value. Thus half of a six penny stamp would pass for three pence. Such stamps are called split or bisected stamps. Stamps intended for temporary use pending the arrival of others are called provisionals. In the early days of postage in the United States and in the early days of existence of the Confederate States the Postmasters issued stamps good only at their offices, for transporting mail to its destination. These stamps are called Postmasters' provisionals.

The mark or obliteration put on a stamp by the post-office denoting that it has done service and is no longer available for payments, is called a cancellation. If it is made with a pen, it is called a pen cancellation. Usually a stamp with a pen cancellation is not as valuable as one with a regular hand stamp cancellation. Where the name of the post-office shows in the cancellation, it is called an office cancellation.

A peculiarity of the United States issues from 1867 to 1870 is the grill or embossing, which consisted of small square pyramids in parallel rows impressed or embossed on the stamp. The object was to break the fibre of the paper so that the ink of the cancelling stamp would soak in and make washing for a second using impossible. Peru has also used the same process on many of her stamps.

On the stamps of the British Colonies the watermarks Crown and C.C. and Crown and C.A. constantly recur. The letters C.C. stand for Crown Colony, and this watermark was used down to about 1882, at which time it was changed to C.A., which stands for Crown Agents for the Colonies. The Crown Agents are the persons through whom stamps are supplied to the colonies.

The word Philately was suggested by Mons. Herpin of Paris, and is derived from the Greek philos "fond of" and atelia "exempt from tax." As stamps denote the prepayment of postage or tax, they are symbolic of exemption from taxes, hence the word secondarily means a fondness for stamps.

It is hoped that the information contained in this introduction will enable even a beginner to use the catalogue to advantage and will help him over the many difficulties which beset him at the start, and that it will lead him to study his stamps and thus derive real benefit and knowledge from his collection.

List of Colonies Controlled by Parent States

THE BRITISH COMMONWEALTH OF NATIONS, E.

1.

Great Britain: Including England, Scotland, Wales, and a portion of Ireland.

2.

Empire of India, A.

The Government of India Act of 1935 established a federation embracing British India and the Native States. There is a British governor-general and two native legislative chambers, of which some of the members are elected, some chosen by the provincial legislatures and the remainder appointed by the native rulers. The control which the Supreme Government exercises over the Native States varies considerably. The more important Princes are autonomous in their own territories. The total number of Indian States is over 700, of which the following are familiar to philatelists because of their postal emissions:

Alwar	Charkhari	Jammu and Kashmir	Nowanuggur
Bamra	Cochin	Jhalawar	Orcha
Barwani	Dhar	Jhind	Patiala
Bhopal	Duttia	Kashmir	Poonch
Bhore	Faridkot	Kishengarh	Rajpeeppla
Bijawar	Gwalior	Las Bela	Sirmoor
Bundi	Hyderabad	Morvi	Soruth
Bussahir	Indore	Nabha	Travancore
Chamba	Jaipur	Nanagaon	Wadhwan

THE DOMINIONS

Australia, O.

The Commonwealth of Australia was proclaimed on January 1, 1901. It consists of six former Colonies as follows:

New South Wales	South Australia	Victoria
Queensland	Tasmania	Western Australia

The administration of Papua was transferred to the Commonwealth on September 1, 1906. New Guinea, formerly German New Guinea, was mandated December 17, 1920.

Canada, N. A.

The Dominion of Canada was created by the "British North American Act in 1867." The following provinces were former separate colonies and issued postage stamps:

British Columbia and Vancouver Is.	Nova Scotia
New Brunswick	Prince Edward Island

Irish Free State, E.

In December, 1921 a treaty was signed with the British Government which was embodied in the Irish Free State (Agreement) Act, 1922. The treaty contains the following provisions, among others:

Ireland to have the same constitutional status "in the community of nations known as the British Empire" as the Self Governing Dominions, and to be called the Irish Free State, now Eire.

The Northern part of Ireland is not included in the Irish Free State.

Newfoundland, N. A.

"Responsible government" was accorded Newfoundland in 1855.

Including Labrador it became a Dominion after the World War, but has temporarily reverted to the status of a colony as a result of a financial emergency.

New Zealand, O.

Became a Dominion on September 26, 1907. The following South Pacific islands are within the administrative jurisdiction of this dominion:

Aitutaki	Niue	Samoa
Cook Islands (Rarotonga)	Penrhyn	(Western Samoa)

Union of South Africa, Af.

Under the terms of the South African Act (1909) the following self-governing colonies were united on May 31, 1910 in a legislative union under the name of the Union of South Africa:

Cape of Good Hope	Orange River Colony
Natal	(Orange Free State)
Transvaal

Under the terms of the Treaty of Versailles, South West Africa, formerly German South West Africa, was mandated to the Union of South Africa.

/ Coast Colony. French area now known as Togo.

The territorial changes in Central Europe which occurred in 1938-39 up to the time of publication have been carefully noted in the text and the present status of Albania, Austria, Czechoslovakia, Germany and Memel may be ascertained by referring to those countries. Among the newcomers this year are Greenland and Hatay, with separate listings, and Carpatho-Ukraine (addenda) and Slovakia, both of which follow Czechoslovakia.

STANDARD POSTAGE STAMP CATALOGUE

THOROUGHLY REVISED AND CORRECTED

UNITED STATES, N. A.

100 CENTS=1 DOLLAR.

A Republic located in North America and comprising one of the great powers of the world both in size and political importance. Capital, Washington, in the District of Columbia. Total area on the North American continent (including the Territory of Alaska), 3,613,189 square miles. Monetary unit, the Dollar.

In addition to the forty-eight States which comprise the Union the Republic includes the territory of Alaska and Hawaii (Oceania), and the following possessions: Guam and the Philippine Islands in Asia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands in the West Indies, and Samoa in Oceania. Also the Panama Canal Zone, a leased territory.

With the exception of the Canal Zone and the Philippines the postage stamps of the United States are in use in all territories and possessions. Special postage stamps are used by the two exceptions noted.

Reprints. The letters R. W. H. & E. at the bottom of each stamp are less distinct on the reprints than on the originals.

5c. On the originals the left side of the white shirt frill touches the oval on a level with the top of the "F" of "Five." On the reprints it touches the oval about on a level with the top of the figure "5."

10c. On the reprints the eyes have a sleepy look, the line of the mouth is straighter, and in the curl of hair near the left cheek is a strong black dot, while the originals have only a faint one.

Type I. Has a curved line outside the labels with "U.S. Postage" and "One Cent." The scrolls below the lower label are turned under, forming little balls. The scrolls and outer line at top are complete.

A6

Type Ia. Same as I at bottom but scrolls and outer line at top are partly cut away.

A7

Type II. The little balls of the bottom scrolls and the bottoms of the lower plume ornaments are missing. The side ornaments are complete.

A8

Type III. The top and bottom curved lines outside the labels are broken in the middle. The side ornaments are complete.

Type IIIa. Similar to III with the outer line broken at top or bottom but not both.

A9

Type IV. Similar to II, but with the curved lines outside the labels recut at top or bottom or both.

Prices for types I and III are for stamps showing the marked characteristics plainly. Copies of type I showing the balls indistinctly and of type III with the lines only slightly broken, sell for much lower prices.

Designs of the 1870-71 Issue with secret marks on the values from 1c to 15c as described and illustrated below.

Franklin
A44a

1c. In the pearl at the left of the numeral "1" there is a small dash.

Jackson
A45a

2c. Under the scroll at the left of "U. S." there is a small diagonal line. This mark seldom shows clearly. The stamp, No. 157, can be distinguished by its color.

Washington
A46a

3c. The lower part of the tail of the left ribbon is heavily shaded.

Lincoln
A47a

6c. The first four vertical lines of the shading in the lower part of the left ribbon have been strengthened.

Stanton
A48a

7c. Two small semi-circles are drawn around the ends of the lines which outline the ball in the lower right hand corner.

Jefferson
A49a

10c. There is a small semi-circle in the scroll at the right end of the upper label.

Clay
A50a

12c. The balls of the figure "2" are crescent shaped.

Webster
A51a

15c. In the lower part of the triangle in the upper left corner two lines have been made heavier forming a "V".

Secret marks were added to the dies of the 24c, 30c and 90c but new plates were not made from them. The various printings of these stamps can be distinguished only by the shades and paper.

The grill varieties of this issue are what is known as "J" grill, measuring about 7x9 1/2 mm. and so strongly impressed that some points often broke through the paper.

Although perforated, these stamps were cut apart with scissors. As a result, the perforations are usually much mutilated and the design is frequently damaged.

These can be distinguished from the 1873 issue by the paper, which is very white instead of yellowish.

These and the subsequent issues listed under this heading are special printings of stamps then in current use which, together with the reprints and reissues, were made for sale to collectors. They are available for postage.

The American Bank Note Co. used many plates of the Continental Bank Note Co. to print the ordinary postage, Departmental and Newspaper stamps. Therefore, stamps bearing the Continental Co.'s imprint were not always its product.

The A. B. N. Co. also used the 90c plate and possibly the 30c plate of the National Bank Note Co.

Designs of 1873 Re-engraved.

Franklin

A44b—Re-engraved

1c. The vertical lines in the upper part of the stamp have been so deepened that the background often appears to be solid. Lines of shading have been added to the upper arabesques.

Washington
A46b

3c. The shading at the sides of the central oval appears only about one-half the previous width. A short horizontal dash has been cut about 1mm. below the "TS" of "CENTS."

Lincoln

A47b—Re-engraved

6c. On the original stamps four vertical lines can be counted from the edge of the panel to the outside of the stamp. On the re-engraved stamps there are but three lines in the same place.

Jefferson

A49b—Re-engraved

10c. On the original stamps there are five vertical lines between the left side of the oval and the edge of the shield. There are only four lines on the re-engraved stamps. In the lower part of the latter, also, the horizontal lines of the background have been strengthened.

With this series the Post Office Department began issuing stamps in coils for use in vending and affixing machines. The stamps in coils are perforated on two sides only, either horizontally or vertically, and are imperforate on the other two sides. The perforation was at first 12. In 1910 the gauge was changed to 8½ and in 1914 to 10. During this period certain denominations were sold in imperforate sheets for use in the machines, the makers of which also applied to the stamps a variety of private perforations and other forms of separation.

Several values of the 1902 and later issues are found on an apparently coarse ribbed paper. This is caused by worn blankets on the printing press and is not a true paper variety.

The Rotary Press stamps are printed from plates that are curved to fit around a cylinder. This curvature produces stamps that are slightly larger, either horizontally or vertically, than those printed from flat plates. Stamps from flat plates measure about 18½-19 mm. wide by 22½ mm. high. When the impressions are placed sideways on the curved plates the stamps are 19½-20 mm. wide; when they are placed vertically the stamps are 23 mm. high.

UNITED STATES STAMPS

There is a Scott Album for every collector of U. S. stamps, wide price range, great variety in style and contents. Here are four:

AMERICAN

$1.00

NATIONAL

$6.00

One for the beginner, or the average collector, the other for the more advanced. The American is a bound edition. The National is loose leaf so that additions of special pages can be made. Supplements to the National are issued annually.

COMMEMORATIVE

Provides spaces for U. S. Commemoratives in singles and blocks of four; loose leaf; Catalogue number in every space.

$4.25

BLANK

Scott's loose leaf blank albums are designed for the specialist. They are made in a number of sizes, priced according to the cost of manufacture.

$4.50 to $13.50

SIMPLIFIED

A complete album for every major variety of design, color and denomination. No spaces are provided for stamps which differ only in perforation, watermark, paper, secret mark, grill or other minor variations. Provides for all postage stamps listed in the Government booklet.

The reprints may be distinguished from the originals by the shades and the whiteness of the paper and gum.

1874-86

Plimpton Issue.

The profiles in this issue are mostly poor, and are wretched imitations of the fine engravings of the Reay issue.

U34
Die 1

Bust forms an angle at the back near the frame. Lettering poorly executed. Distinct circle in "O" of "POSTAGE."

U35
Die 2

Lower part of bust points to the end of the frame. Lettering poorly executed. The "E" in "ONE." Head inclined downward.

U36
Die 1

Bust narrow at back. Thin figures of value. The head of the "P" in "POSTAGE" is very narrow. The bust at front is broad and ends in sharp corners.

U37
Die 2

Bust broad. Figures of value in long ovals.

U38

Similar to die 2 but the figure "2" at the left touches the oval.

U39
Die 4

Similar to die 2 but the "O" of "TWO" has the center netted instead of plain and the "G" of "POSTAGE" and the "C" of "CENTS" have diagonal crossline.

U40
Die 5

Bust broad; numerals in ovals short and thick.

U41
Die 6

Similar to die 5 but the ovals containing the numerals are much heavier. A diagonal line runs from the upper part of the "U" to the white frame-line.

U42
Die 7

Similar to die 5 but the middle stroke of "N" in "CENTS" is as thin as the vertical strokes.

U43
Die 8
Bottom of bust cut almost semi-circularly.

U44
Die 1

Thin lettering, long thin figures of value.

U45
Die 2
Thick lettering, well-formed figures of value, queue does not project below bust.

U46
Die 3
Top of head egg-shaped; knot of queue well marked and projects triangularly.

Die 1
Figures of value with thick, curved tops.

Taylor
U47

Die 2
Figures of value with long, thin tops.

U48
Neck very short at the back.

U49
Figures of value turned up at the ends.

U50
Die 1
Very large head.

U51
Die 2
Knot of queue stands out prominently.

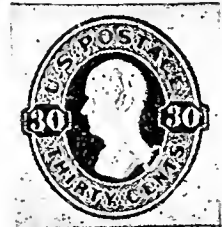

U52
Face idiotic, ear prominent, chin receding.

U53
Has no side whiskers, forelock projects above head.

U54
Hair does not project; ornaments around the inner oval end in points.

U55
Back of bust rather broad, chin slopes considerably; labels containing figures of value are not exactly parallel.

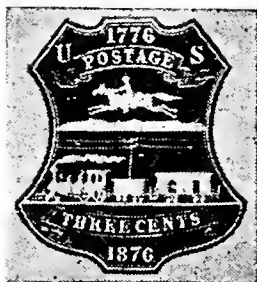

U56
Front of bust sloping; inner lines of shields project considerably into the inner oval.

General Issue.

First Issue. Head of Washington in Oval.

Various Borders as Illustrated.

Nos. R1-b to R42-b, part perforate, occur perforated sometimes at sides only and sometimes at top and bottom only. The higher values, part perforate, are perforated at sides only. Imperforate and part perforate revenues often bring much more in pairs or blocks than as single copies.

The experimental silk paper is a variety of the old paper and has only a very few minute fragments of fibre.

Pronounced shades and color variations exist of nearly all denominations, particularly the 4c, $1.00 and $2.00.

There are two styles of rouletting for the proprietary and documentary stamps of the 1898 issue, an ordinary rouletting 5 1/2 and one by which small rectangles of the paper are cut out, usually called hyphen-hole perforation 7. With the exception of Nos. R161, R162 and R175 to R178 inclusive, all the stamps of the two series exist with both roulettes.

" Match and Medicine "

Stamps

In 1864 and up to 1900, the U. S. Government prepared on contract, revenue stamps in approved designs for use in collecting taxes on Matches, Medicine, Canned Fruit, Perfumery and Playing Cards. These are known as Private Proprietary Stamps and form one of the most interesting groups for the U. S. Specialists.

Private Proprietary Stamps are listed and priced in the CONFEDERATE STATES.

PROVISIONAL ISSUES.

These stamps and envelopes were issued in 1861 by the postmasters of the different cities. In making the envelopes, the cancelling stamps of the post offices were frequently employed. It is often difficult to determine whether such a mark was used provisionally or merely indicates postage paid at the time the letter was deposited in the post office. Occasionally the same mark was used for both purposes. It is possible that there are other envelopes, besides those listed here, which are equally worthy of recognition.

Prices for adhesive stamps are for those not on cover.

Prices for Envelopes are for entires.

The paper of Nos. 210 and 211 varies from thin hard to thick soft. The so-called laid paper is probably due to thick streaky gum.

ABYSSINIA, A.F.

(ǎb'í-sin'í.á)

(Ethiopia)

(é'thi.ó'pí.á)

An inland monarchy in northeast Africa. Native name, Ethiopia. Capital, Addis Ababa. Area, about 50,000 square miles, or about as large as the States of Texas and Oklahoma combined. Present monetary unit, the Thaler. It is related that Balkis, the Queen of Sheba, who visited King Solomon, was a monarch of this country. From her son, Menelik, the rulers of Abyssinia claim descent. The importance of this meeting of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba is reflected in the designs of Abyssinian postage stamps.

In September, 1935, as an outgrowth of the Walwal border incident, Italy invaded Abyssinia and by April, 1936, had conquered the territory and entered Addis Ababa. The Emperor Haile Selassie fled the country, though he did not abdicate his throne, and shortly thereafter Premier Mussolini proclaimed Abyssinia to be part of Italy.

The overprints on Nos. 5 to 56 inclusive were hand stamped, the work being very roughly done. Apparently any color of ink that was at hand was used. It is not at all improbable that other varieties may exist.

As is usual with handstamped surcharges there are many inverted and double.

ADEN, A.
(ü'děn; ä'děn)

A volcanic peninsula on the Arabian coast, directly opposite French Somaliland. Prior to 1932, Aden and its dependencies were administered by the government of India as a part of Bombay presidency but in that year the direction and control of the government was transferred to the Commissioner-in-Chief at Aden who was directly responsible to the India government. On April 1, 1937 the area was established as a British Crown Colony.

In 1936, special postage stamps were issued for use in the Colony; prior to that time the stamps of India served this territory.

The area of Aden, including the protectorate, is about 9000 sq. mile

AFGHANISTAN, A.

(ăf.găn'î-stăn; ăf.găn'is-tăn')

An independent state in Central Asia, lying between Persia on the west, Russian Turkestan on the north, India on the east and Baluchistan on the south. The government, with its capital at Kabul, is a constitutional monarchy with both legislative and state assemblies presided over by the king. In area Afghanistan is approximately 245,000 square miles, about the same size as the State of Texas. It is primarily an agricultural country, two crops being harvested, one in the spring and one in the fall. The main articles of export are the wool and skins of the fat-tailed sheep, an animal characterized by its huge tail caused by an accumulation of fat, which the sheep draws upon during the winter months when fodder is scarce. This fat is also the principal substitute for butter. Afghanistan became a member of the Universal Postal Union in 1928. The lion's head found on the early postage stamps is an adaptation from the name of the ruling amir, Sher (Lion) Ali.

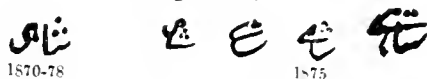

The present monetary unit is the Afghani Rupee.

From 1870 to 1891 the stamps of this country were cancelled by having a piece torn or cut out of them.

ALBANIA, E.
(al-bā'nī-ā)

A Monarchy in South Eastern Europe bordering on the Adriatic Sea and lying between Jugoslavia and Greece. After the outbreak of the World War, the country fell into a state of anarchy when the Prince and all members of the International Commission left Albania. Subsequently General Ferrero in command of Italian troops, declared Albania an independent country. A constitution was adopted and a republican form of government was instituted, which continued until 1928 when, by constitutional amendment, Albania was declared to be a monarchy. The President of the republic, Ahmed Zogu, was declared king of the new state.

For the most part, the country is primitive and much land is uncultivated. Natural resources, which are undeveloped, include vast tracts of timber lands composed of oak, chestnut, walnut and beech trees. Pines and firs are also in abundance. Exports are small, amounting, in 1927, to somewhat over $5,000,000.

In March, 1939 Italy invaded Albania. King Zog fled the country but did not abdicate his throne. The crown was offered to and accepted by the King of Italy.

The overprint on Nos. 1 to 19 was handstamped and, as usual, is found inverted, double, etc.

The 5pa ochre (No. 4) was surcharged "2 paras".

The eagle handstamp was applied to other Turkish stamps of 1909: 25pi green, 50pi red brown, and 2pi postage due. None of these stamps were placed on sale to the public but all were retained by officials.

Nos. 6, 7 and 8 exist with the handstamp in red, blue or violet, but these varieties are not known to have been regularly issued.

ALGERIA, AF.

(āl-jēr'ī-ā)

A French colony in northern Africa bordering on the Mediterranean Sea. A vast territory covering some 847,000 square miles (about the size of Greenland). The country is agricultural but large tracts of land are covered with timber, including over one million acres of cork oak trees owned by the government. The country is rich in minerals, including lead, zinc, copper, antimony, etc., but so far these resources have not been developed to any great extent. Capital, Algiers.

The present monetary unit is the franc (French).

ANGOLA, AF.

(ANG-KO'LA)

A Portuguese colony on the south-west coast of Africa lying between Belgian Congo on the north and South West Africa on the south. Area 484,729 square miles. Capital, Loanda (Sao Paulo de Loanda). With the exception of the years 1641 to 1648 Angola has been a possession of Portugal since 1575. The present monetary unit is the 'angolar' although postage stamps are still issued in 'cendos'. Eighty angolares are equal to one hundred Angolan cendos. The angolar was introduced in 1928.

1000 CENDOS = 1 EMIREIS.
100 CENAVOS = ESCUDO.
100 CENAVOS = 1 ANGOLAR.

Two types of the 10r yellow, 40r blue and 50r buff, differing in the figures of value.
No. 11 is due to aliche of the 40r being inserted in the plate of the 20r. The error was discovered before the stamps were issued. All copies were removed from the sheets and cancelled by a fine pencil mark.
The reprints of the 1870-85 issues are printed on a smooth white chalky paper, ungrammed and perforated 13 1/2. Also on thin white paper with shiny white gum and clean cut perforation 13 1/2.

ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

(ár'jén-tén :-tín)

S. A.

A republic in South America, bordering on the Atlantic Ocean, and with Chile, comprising the entire southern portion of that continent. Capital, Buenos Aires. Area, 1,153,20 square miles, about one-third the area of the United States of America. While much wheat, oats, cotton, sugar, etc., are raised and exported, the chief industry is meat refrigeration, almost three-quarters of a million tons of chilled and frozen meat being exported each year. The largest killing and freezing plant in the world is located at Buenos Aires. This plant has a daily capacity of 5,000 cattle and 10,000 sheep. Present monetary unit, the peso.

In this watermark the face of the sun is 7 mm. in diameter, the rays are heavier than in the large sun watermark of 1896-1911 and the watermarks are placed close together, so that parts of several frequently appear on one stamp. This paper was intended to be used for fiscal stamps and is usually referred to as "fiscal sun paper".

Buenos Aires.

(bwá'nós i'rás; bõ'nos ár'éz)

The central point of the Argentine struggle for independence. At intervals Buenos Aires maintained an independent government but after 1862 became a province of the Argentine Republic.

8 REALES = 1 PESO.

Prices quoted are for copies in good condition, usually the specimens of the early issues command a high premium while inferior copies can be found at a small fraction of the quoted prices.

Printed from settings of eight varieties, three or four impressions constituting a sheet. Some impressions were printed inverted and tête beche pairs may be cut from adjacent impressions.

From Jan. 1st to Feb. 24th, 1864, No. 4 was used as a 5 centavos stamp but copies so used can only be distinguished when they bear dated cancellations.

The reprints show numerous spots and small defects which are not found on the originals. They are printed on gray blue, dull blue, gray green, dull orange and light magenta papers.

ARMENIA, E.

(är-mè'nî-á)

With Azerbaijan and Georgia, Armenia made up the Transcaucasian Federation of Soviet Republics (Eastern Europe). Under the new Soviet Constitution adopted Dec. 5, 1936, this federation was divided into the autonomous republics of Armenia, Azerbaijan and Georgia. These, combined with the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic and seven other republics, compose the U. S. S. R. The capital of Armenia is Erivan. The postage stamps of Russia have been used in Armenia since 1923.

100 ROPECS = 1 RUBLE.

National Republic.

1920

Russian Stamps of 1902-18.

Handstamped with Various Devices.

There are several types of the Armenian Letters, both with and without Frame.

As is usual with handstamped overprints there are many inverted and double.

AUSTRIA, E.

(ô's'trî.â)

A republic in Central Europe. Capital, Vienna. Formerly a part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. Area 32,360 square miles, about the size of the State of Maine. The Republic of Austria was proclaimed on November 12, 1918, following the cessation of hostilities of the World War. A constitution was adopted and came into effect on November 10, 1920. In March, 1938, Austria was taken over by Germany and ceased to exist as a political entity.

Thin or Thick Paper.

The stamps of this issue were printed on a rough paper, varying in thickness and having a watermark in script letters K. K. H. M., the initials of Kaiserlich Koniglich Handels-Ministerium (Imperial and Royal Ministry of Commerce and Labor). Parts of these letters show on a few stamps in the sheet. A thick, smooth paper without watermark was also used.

NINE KREUZERS.

Type I. The top of "9" is much higher than the top of the word "Kreuzer" and nearly touches the top of the label.

Type II. The top of "9" is about on a level with "Kreuzer" and not near the top of the label.

Type III. Similar to type II but with 14mm. instead of 4mm. space between "9" and "Kreuzer."

1867-77

Three Types of the 5 Kreuzer, differing in the arabesques in the lower left corner.

Type I. The small ornament at left of the curve nearest the figure "5" is short and has three points at bottom.

Type II. The ornament is prolonged within the curve and has two points at bottom. The corresponding ornament at top of the lower left corner does not touch the curve.

Type III. Similar to type II but the top ornament is joined to the curve.

Two groups of plates were used for the 1867-77 issues. On the first the hair and whiskers were coarse and thick, on the second they were fine and clear.

BAHAMAS, W. I.

(bâ-hâ'mâz)

A British Colony, consisting of twenty or more islands and rocks in the West Indies off the coast of Florida. Many of these islands are uninhabited. The principal island is New Providence on which is situated the city of Nassau, the capital of the colony. The principal industries are sponge and turtle fisheries and the cultivation of sisal and tomatoes, large quantities of which are exported to the United States. The monetary unit is the British pound.

12 PENCE=1 SHILLING.

20 SHILLINGS=1 POUND.

Pen cancellations are common on the stamps of Bahamas. They usually indicate that the stamps have been used fiscally and such stamps sell for very much less than those with postal cancellation.

The dates on the stamps commemorate important events in the history of the colony. The first British occupation was in 1629. The Bahamas were ceded to Great Britain in 1789 and a treaty of peace was signed by that country, France and Spain. The third and second centenaries of the events are commemorated by the date 1929.

BANGKOK, A.

(bäng'kök'; bäng'kök)

The capital city of Siam, a kingdom in southeastern Asia. Stamps were issued by Great Britain under rights obtained by the treaty of 1855. These were in use until 1886 when the stamps of Siam were designated as the only official postage stamps to be used in the kingdom.

BASUTOLAND, AF.

(bā-soō'tō.lānd')

An inland British Crown Colony in Southeastern Africa entirely surrounded by the Union of South Africa. Basutoland, a former independent native state, was annexed to the Cape Colony in 1871, but in 1883 an arrangement was made whereby the control of the Basuto country passed directly to the British Crown. The stamps of the Cape of Good Hope were used from 1871 to 1910 and those of the Union of South Africa, from 1910 to 1933.

BATUM, A.

(bä-toöm')

The capital city of Ajaria, an autonomous republic of Georgia, which in turn was part of the Transcaucasian Socialist Federated Soviet Republic in the southeastern extremity of European Russia. The first postage stamps of Batum were issued under the administration of Georgia. Batum was ceded to Turkey but, under terms of the Versailles Treaty, Turkey was forced to give up all possessions in Transcaucasia and for a few years this section of the country was under control of Great Britain.

BAVARIA, E.

(bā-vār'i-á)

For over a century Bavaria was a kingdom in Central Europe. It was a part of the German Empire and after the World War was declared a republic. It now comprises a Free State of Germany lying in the southern part of the Reich. The area is about 29,300 square miles. The country is largely agricultural in nature and considerable quantities of wheat, oats, rye, hops and potatoes are raised. Some 49,000 acres are devoted to vineyards which produce 9,058,000 gallons of wine.

BECHUANALAND, AF.

(béch'ōō-ä'nä-länd' ; bék'ū-)

British Bechuanaland.

A British Crown Colony in South Africa which in 1895 was annexed to the Cape of Good Hope Colony and now is incorporated in the Union of South Africa. British Bechuanaland is separated from the Bechuanaland Protectorate with which it should not be confused.

Bechuanaland Protectorate.

A British Protectorate in south central Africa, lying north of the Union of South Africa, east of South West Africa and bounded on the east and north by Southern Rhodesia and Angola. In area about 275,000 square miles. The country is inhabited by various native tribes, the most important being the Bamangwato, the Bakhatla, the Bangwaketse, the Batawana and the Bamalete. The tribes are each ruled by native chiefs under the protection of the British Crown, represented by a Resident Commissioner. There are twenty-two post offices in the Protectorate. The monetary unit is the British pound.

BELGIUM, E.

(bēl'jī-ūm)

A constitutional monarchy in western Europe, bordering on the North Sea. The kingdom dates from 1831 when, on July 21, Prince Leopold of Saxe-Coburg ascended the throne as King of the Belgians. Previously Belgium had been a part of Netherlands. The capital is Brussels. The monetary unit is the belga, equal to five francs. Postage stamps, however, are still issued in Belgian francs.

(See Italian Somaliland).

BENIN, A.F.

(bĕ-nĕn')

Until 1894 the name Benin was used to describe the French possessions on the west coast of Africa now known as Dahomey. In 1895 these possessions were incorporated into the colony of Dahomey and stamps of Dahomey superseded those of Benin.

Nos. 1, 2 and 5b were probably never placed in use.

These stamps were superseded by those of Hamburg in 1867 and those in turn by those of the North German Confederation in 1868.

REPRINTS.

CHILLING.

There is a dot in the upper part of the right neck of "N" of "EIN". The upper part of the shield is blank or almost blank. The horizontal bar "H" in "HALBER" is generally defective.

CHILLING.

The "I" in the corners is generally with foot. The central horizontal bar of the "E" of "EIN" is separated from the vertical branch by a black line. The "A" of "POSTMARKE" has the horizontal bar complete or missing. The horizontal bar of the "S" of "SCHILLING" is separated from the vertical branches by a dark line at each side, sometimes the bar is missing.

SCHILLINGE.

There is a small triangle under the right side of the tower, exactly over the "R" of "POSTMARKE".

CHILLINGE.

The head of the eagle is not shaded. The horizontal bar of the second "E" of "BERGEDORF" is separated from the vertical branch by a thin line. There is generally a colored dot in the lower half of the "S" of "POSTMARKE".

CHILLINGE.

The upper part of the shield is blank or has or three small dashes. In most of the reprints there is a diagonal dash across the wavy lines of the windwork at the right of "I" and "E" of "BER".

BERMUDA, W. I.

(bĕr.mū'dā)

A British colony consisting of some 360 small islands lying about 580 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras and nearly due east of Charleston, S. C. The islands were discovered prior to 1515 by Juan de Bermúdez after whom they are named. The principal products are onions, potatoes and lilies. Capital, Hamilton. The monetary unit is the British pound.

BOLIVIA, S. A.

(bò·liv'í·á)

An inland republic in the central part of South America, separated from the Pacific Coast by Chile and Peru. Named after the great liberator, Simón Bolívar. Much of the country is undeveloped but in some sections potatoes, coffee, barley, cocoa, etc., are raised. Bolivia also ranks second in rubber exporting in South America. Mining is rather extensive and over one-tenth of the world's supply of tin is produced. Capital, La Paz. The monetary unit is the boliviano.

100 CENTAVOS = 1 PESO = 1 BOLIVIANO.

Pen cancellations are common on the stamps of the earlier issues of Bolivia. They usually indicate that the stamps have been used fiscally and such stamps are worth about one-fifth as much as those with postal cancellations. Quotations given are for postally cancelled copies.

72 varieties of each of the 5c, 75 varieties of the 10c, 30 varieties of each of the 50c and 100c.

The plate of the 5c stamps was entirely re-engraved four times and retouched at least six times. Various states of the plate have distinguishing characteristics, each of which is typical of most, though not all the stamps in a sheet. These characteristics (usually termed types) are found in the shading lines at the right side of the globe, 1st: vertical and diagonal lines; 2d: diagonal lines only; 3d: diagonal and horizontal with traces of vertical lines; 4th: diagonal and horizontal lines; 5th: horizontal lines only; 6th: no lines except the curved ones forming the outlines of the globe.

Stamps of the 1894 type on thick paper were surreptitiously printed in Paris on the order of an official and without government authorization. Some of these stamps were substituted for part of a shipment of stamps on thin paper, which had been printed in London on government order. When the thick paper stamps reached Bolivia they were at first repudiated but afterwards were allowed to do postal duty. A large quantity of the thick paper stamps were fraudulently cancelled in Paris with a cancellation of heavy bars forming an oval. If copies of the thick paper stamps can be proven to have been purchased at post offices in Bolivia or to have genuine cancellations of that country they are, of course, entirely collectable. We have no proof that the 10c in blue on thick paper was ever issued.

BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA, E.

(bōz'ni-á & hēr'tsē-gō-vē'nā)

These were originally Turkish provinces which were annexed by Austria in 1908. After the World War they became provinces of Jugoslavia. The capital, Sarajevo, was the scene of the assassination of the archduke Francis Ferdinand which was the incident that brought about the World War. The provinces are located at the central position of Jugoslavia, a kingdom in Europe bordering the Adriatic Sea.

100 HELLER=1 KRONE.
100 NOVČICA =1 FLORIN.

Coat of Arms

A1

Typographed.

Type I. The heraldic eaglets on the right side of the escutcheon are entirely blank. The eye of the lion is indicated by a very small dot, which sometimes fails to print. All values except the 5n exist in this type.

Type II. There is a colored line across the lowest eaglet. A similar line sometimes appears on the middle eaglet. The eye of the lion is formed by a large dot which touches the outline of the head above it. All values are found in this type.

Type III. The eaglets and eye of the lion are similar to type I. The lowest feather of the tail of the large eagle has two lines of shading and does not touch the curved line below it. In types I and II there are several shading lines in this feather, which touches the curved line. Only the 5n is found in type III.

Varieties of the Numerals

NOVČICA:

- A. The "2" has curved tail.
- B. The "2" has straight tail.

NOVČICA:

- C. The serif of the "1" is short and forms a wide angle with the vertical stroke.
- D. The serif of the "1" is longer and forms an acute angle with the vertical stroke.

NOVČICA:

- E. Same as variety C of the 10n.
- F. Same as variety D of the 10n.

The numerals of the 5n were retouched several times and show minor differences, especially in the 5g.

Other Varieties.

NOVČICA:

There is a colored dot between the curved ends of the ornaments near the lower spandrels. In variety G this dot touches the curve at its right. In variety H the dot stands clear of the curved lines.

NOVČICA:

Ten stamps in each sheet of type II show a small cross in the upper section of the right side of the escutcheon.

Vmkd. BRIEFMARKEN or ZEITUNGS-MARKEN in Double-lined Capitals.

BRAZIL, S. A.

(brá-zil')

A republic in South America comprising practically one-half the area of that continent. In size Brazil is larger than the United States of America, the area in square miles being 3,285,000. The country was discovered in 1500 by Admiral Pedro Alvares Cabral, and from that time until 1815 was a possession of Portugal. From 1815 until 1889 it was a kingdom. In 1891 a constitution was adopted and the country became officially known as The United States of Brazil. The principal product is coffee, the country producing about three-quarters of the world's supply. Rubber is another important natural product and "fine Pará" is the best in the world. The capital is Rio de Janeiro, an excellent port on the Atlantic Ocean. The monetary unit is the milreis.

No. RA1 was issued in commemoration of the Brazilian aviator, Santos Dumont. It did not pay postage but its use was obligatory as a tax on all correspondence sent by air to countries in South America, the United States and Spain. Its use on correspondence to other countries was optional. The money obtained from its sale was added to funds for the erection of aerodromes throughout Brazil.

BRITISH CENTRAL AFRICA.

A territory in Central Africa formerly under charter to the British South Africa Company. The country is now officially designated as the Nyasaland Protectorate and is administered by the British Colonial Office. It lies along the west shore of Lake Nyasa and has an area of about 37,800 square miles. Capital, Zomba. Stamps of Nyasaland Protectorate superseded those of British Central Africa in 1907.

The stamps of British Columbia were superseded by those of Canada in 1871.

No. 10 and 13 were not issued for use.

BRITISH EAST AFRICA.

This name was originally applied to all countries under British control in East Africa. Postage stamps were issued by the British East Africa Company in 1890. Later the territory administered by this company was incorporated in the East Africa and Uganda Protectorate which, together with Kenya, became officially designated as Kenya Colony.

Nos. 35 to 43 inclusive were type-set, there being twenty-four types of each value. They were initialed before use "R. M. Ac. R. G.", being the initials of Robert Mather, Acting Receiver General.

Black ink was used on the rose stamps, red ink on the yellow and an alkali was used on the blue stamps, which, destroying the color of the paper, caused the initials to appear to be written in white.

Uninitialed stamps are remainders, a few sheets having been found some years ago.

Nos. 103 to 106 inclusive were type-set, twelve to a sheet, and, to prevent fraud on the government, the word "Specimen" was perforated across them before they were issued. There were two settings of the 1c and three settings of the 2c, thus there are twenty-four types of the former and thirty-six of the latter.

BRITISH HONDURAS, C.A.
(hōn-dōō'rās)

A British colony in Central America bordering the Caribbean Sea on the east and Guatemala on the west. It is probable that wood cutters from Jamaica effected the first settlement about 1638 and since that date it has remained under British influence. In 1862 the country was officially declared a British colony subordinate to Jamaica and in 1884 became an independent Colony. Capital, Belize.

BRITISH SOMALILAND.

(só-mä'lé-lánd')

(See Somaliland Protectorate.)

BRITISH SOUTH AFRICA.

(See Rhodesia.)

BRUNEI. O.

(bröö-ní')

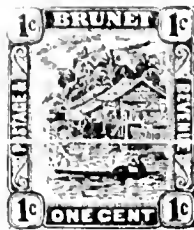

A British protectorate on the northwest coast of Borneo. Old town of Brunei is built out over the Brunei River but since 1910 a new town has been built on the mainland. The interior of the country is mostly dense jungle. Stamps were issued in 1906 following the transferring of administration of state from the Sultan to the British Resident. The post office at Brunei Town does considerable business handling some 64,000 pieces of mail annually. The capital is Brunei. The monetary unit is the Straits Settlements dollar.

CAMEROONS, A.F.

(kām'ēr-ōōnz')

A mandated territory on the west coast of Africa north of the equator. Prior to the World War, Cameroons (Kamerun) was a German protectorate. In 1922 it was assigned to Great Britain and France by the League of Nations as a mandated territory. The territory allotted to Great Britain was attached to the colony of Nigeria and stamps ceased to be issued. The French portion is known as Cameroun.

CANADA, N. A.

(kán'á.dá)

A British Dominion in North America. The Dominion was created by the "British North America Act" of 1867. The act provides that the constitution of the Dominion "shall be similar in principle to that of the United Kingdom." The executive authority is the crown of Great Britain. Parliament consists of two houses known as the Senate and the House of Commons. Members of the Senate are nominated for life by the Governor-General. The House of Commons is elected by the people. At the Imperial Conference of 1926 the present status of Canada was defined: "the self governing Dominions are autonomous communities within the British Empire, equal in status, though united by common allegiance to the Crown." Provision was made in the original act for admission of British Columbia, Prince Edward Island, Northwest Territories and Newfoundland. With the exception of Newfoundland all have availed themselves of this provision. The present area known as the "North West Territory" was purchased from the Hudson's Bay Company in 1869. Canada is a large wheat producing country, the Canadian Wheat Pool, a cooperative organization, being the largest venture of its kind in the world. The monetary unit is the Canadian Dollar. Capital, Ottawa.

Double transfers of the 5c are numerous. Most of them are slight and are of small value. The most important one has many lines of the design double, especially the outlines of the ovals and the frame at the left. This is the variety which we list as No. 15c.

No. 15b was used in connection with a 10c stamp to make a 12 1/2c rate.

In 1915 postage stamps of 5, 20 and 50 cents were overprinted "WAR TAX" in two lines. These stamps were intended for fiscal use, the war tax on postal matter being 1 or 2 cents. A few of these stamps were used to pay postage but we do not catalogue revenue stamps used postally.

1916 TWO TYPES:
Type I. There is a colored line between two white lines below the large letter "T."

CANAL ZONE, C. A.

(ká-nāl' zōn)

The site of the Panama Canal.

A strip of land ten miles wide, in the Republic of Panama, which extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean. Under a treaty ratified in 1903, the "Canal Zone" was leased in perpetuity to the United States of America for a cash payment of $10,000,000, and a yearly rental of $250,000 (beginning in 1913). The cities of Panama and Colon remain under the authority of Panama but complete jurisdiction was granted the United States in both cities and their harbors in all that relates to sanitation and quarantine.

Nos. 11, 12 and 13 are overprinted, and 14 is surcharged upon Panama stamps Nos. 77, 78, 79 and 81 respectively. There are several settings of the "Canal Zone" overprint which, in addition to the words in antique type have minor varieties, such as "A" and "L" of "Canal" widely spaced, and various broken letters. The "Panama" overprint varies in colors. The bar is either 2 or 2½mm. wide and is sometimes misplaced so that it appears at the bottom instead of the top of the stamp. In the "8 cts" surcharge there are several minor varieties of the figure "8".

CAPE OF GOOD HOPE, A.F.

(kāp öv gööd hōp)

The extreme southern province of the Union of South Africa. Formerly an independent colony familiarly known as the "Cape Colony." In 1910 joined with Natal, the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony in forming the Union of South Africa, a self-governing dominion. Capital, Cape Town.

CASTELLORIZO, A.

(käs-tél'ló-ré'tsó)
(Castelrosso)

An island in Asia Minor about 60 miles east of Rhodes, belonging to Italy. Formerly belonging to Turkey, it was occupied by the French in 1915 but was ceded to Italy after the World War, and attached to the Aegean Islands for administrative purposes.

Issued under
French Occupation.

CENTRAL LITHUANIA, E.

(lith'û-â'ni-â)

A much disputed territory lying north of Poland and east of Lithuania. At one time was a grand duchy of Lithuania but at the end of the 18th Century fell under Russian rule. After the World War, Lithuania regained her sovereignty but certain areas were occupied by Poland. During the Russo-Polish war this territory was seized by Lithuania whose claim was promptly recognized by the Soviet Government. Under the leadership of the Polish General Zeligowski the territory was recaptured and it was during this occupation the stamps of Central Lithuania came into being. Subsequently the territory became a part of Poland.

CEYLON, A.

(sè-lôn')

A British Crown Colony consisting of an island in the Indian Ocean separated from India by the Gulf of Manaar. Area is 25,332 square miles or about as large as the combined area of the States of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont. Capital Colombo, Monetary unit, the rupee (15 rupees=£1).

12 PENCE=1 SHILLING,
100 CENTS=1 RUPEE.

Note. Prices on early Ceylon stamps vary according to condition.

The quotations below from Nos. 1 to 13 are for cutsquare copies with small or no margins but with design intact. Inferior specimens with designs partly cut away sell at greatly reduced prices.

Cut to shape copies of Nos. 5, 8, 9, 12, 12a or 13 sell for very little.

Perforated issues of 1861 to 1868 are seldom found well centered.

CHAD, AF.

(chäd)
(Tohad)

A French Colony in Central Africa. Chad Territory, which was formerly a dependency of the Ubangi-Shari colony, by decree issued on March 17, 1920, was made a separate colony. The capital is Fort Lamy. Chad, Gabon, Middle Congo and Ubangi-Shari colonies are grouped in one administrative unit known as French Equatorial Africa.

CHILE, S. A.

(chē'lá; chil'é)

Chile is one of the most energetic and prosperous of the South American republics. It comprises a narrow strip of land along the southwest coast of the South American continent extending from Peru almost 2,900 miles south. Its average width is only one hundred miles. It is separated from the Argentine Republic on the east by the towering Andes Mountains which contain an almost inexhaustible supply of minerals; principal of which are copper (Chile is the world's second largest producer of this metal) gold, silver, cobalt, and manganese. Ninety-five per cent. of the world's supply of nitrate is also produced. The nitrate is not only the most important of Chile's products but is also the chief source of governmental revenue which is derived from export taxes. The country was formerly a Spanish colony but declared its independence in 1810. Capital, Santiago. Monetary unit, peso.

100 CENTAVOS=1 PESO.

Pen cancellations are common on the earlier issues of Chile. Such stamps sell for very much less than the quoted prices which are for those with regular postal cancellations.

918 First Re-engraving.
A49 8c slate 1.00 20
No. 125 is a re-engraving of No. 115. The top of the head is further from the oval, the spots of color enclosed in the figures "8" are oval instead of round, and there are many small differences in the design.

921 Second Re-engraving.
A49 8c gray 4.00 1.50
No. 126 differs from No. 125 in not having diagonal lines in the frame and only a few diagonal lines above the shoulders, while No. 125 has diagonal lines in the oval up to the level of the forehead.

915-25 Typographed.
Outer backgrounds consist of horizontal lines.

A45 5p olive green & black (1920) 80 4
A46 10p orange & black (1925) 1.60 40

The engraved stamps of these types have horizontal and diagonal ruled lines in the background outside the oval. The typographed 1, 2, 4, 10, 25, 50c and 1p have only the horizontal lines.

The heads of the bi-colored stamps are engraved and the frames typographed.

No. 128a is from a new plate. The lines are clearer than on No. 128 but the design has not been redrawn, as has been claimed. Nos. 121a and 134a are printed from new head plates which give darker and heavier impressions. These two stamps have been termed "all typographed" but this is not correct, as the heads are engraved.

A 4c stamp with portrait of Balmaceda and a 4c with portrait of Manuel de Salas were prepared but not placed in use. The 4c stamp was probably suppressed for political reasons. The 14c stamps were injured by dampness and were sent to the paper mill at Puente Alto for destruction. They were not all destroyed as some were irregularly preserved and sold.

CHINA, A.

(chi'na)

Formerly an empire but since 1912 a republic in Asia bordering on the China Sea. In area is 4,279,000 square miles, being somewhat larger than the whole of Europe. China is probably the oldest of nations in the world today, for its identity has been maintained through the ages some fifty centuries. To the ancients China was known as Cathay but otherwise the identity has not been lost. The first series of postage stamps carries us back to the reign of the first emperor for the dragon, which is pictured, is supposed to have revealed the secrets of writing to Fu Hi, who lived and ruled China at almost the beginning of time as reckoned since mankind has kept any history of events. Other creatures pictured on China's stamps are taken from legends of the past which date from so long ago. Capital, Nanking. Monetary unit, dollar.

The stamps of this issue were printed in London and afterwards in Peking. The latter prints are from new plates, showing differences in the designs which are too minute for description or illustration.

The higher values of this issue are often overprinted with Chinese characters, which are the names of various postal districts. Stamps are frequently stolen while in transit to post offices. The overprints serve to protect them, since the stamps can only be used in the districts for which they are overprinted.

Types of 1913-19 Issue.

Re-engraved.

Type A29: Most of the "whitecaps" in front of the junk have been removed and the water made darker. The shading lines have been removed from the arabesques and pearls above the top inscription. The inner shadings at the top and sides of the picture have been cut away.

Type A30: The heads of rice in the side panels have a background of crossed lines instead of horizontal lines. The Temple of Heaven is strongly shaded and has a door. There are rows of pearls below the Chinese characters in the upper corners. The arabesques above the top inscription have been altered and are without shading lines.

Type A31: The curved line under the inscription at top is single instead of double. There are four vertical lines, instead of eight, at each side of the picture. The trees at the sides of the temple had foliage in the 1913-18 issue but now the branches are bare. There are numerous other alterations in the design.

On the 1913 stamps there are two complete background lines between the ornament and the label. The 1918 stamps show only one unbroken line at this place. There are other minute differences in the engraving of the stamps of the two issues.

CILICIA, A.

(si-lish'i-à; -lish'á)

A territory in Turkey in south-eastern Asia Minor. British and French forces occupied it in 1918 and in 1919 its control fell to the French. Eventually part of Cilicia was assigned to the French Mandated Territory of Syria but by the Lausanne Treaty of 1923 which fixed the boundary between Syria and Turkey, Cilicia reverted to Turkey.

Issued under
French Occupation.

COCHIN CHINA, A.

(kō'chin chí'ná ; kōch'in)

A French colony in Asia, forming a part of French Indo-China and occupying approximately 26,470 square miles at the extreme southern end of the French possessions in the Cambodian peninsula. Together with the protectorates of Annam, Cambodia, Tonkin and Laos and Kwangchowán, the Colony of Cochin China forms part of the administrative unit known as French Indo-China. Being a direct colony of France, Cochin China is provided with a governor in place of a Resident-Superior. The chief product of the colony is rice, there being eleven mills in Saigon and Cholon which have a combined capacity of 3,000 tons per day. Postage stamps and currency of Indo-China are in use.

COLOMBIA, S. A.

(kô-lûm'bi-â)

A republic on the northwest coast of South America bordering on the Caribbean Sea and the Pacific Ocean. Area, 440,846 square miles, or about as large as the combined areas of the States of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and Louisiana. In colonial days, Colombia was the Spanish Vice-Royalty of New Granada. In 1810 it gained independence from Spain and with Venezuela and Ecuador formed the state of Greater Colombia which flourished ten years. When, in 1832, this state split into three independent units as Venezuela, Ecuador, and the Republic of New Granada. The name of the country has been successively New Granada Confederation (1858-61), United States of Colombia (1861-85), Republic of Colombia (1885 to date). Capital, Bogotá. Monetary unit, peso.

100 CENTAVOS=1 PESO

In the earlier days many towns did not have post-stamps for cancelling purposes and stamps were cancelled with pen and ink. Pen cancellations, therefore, do not indicate fiscal use. As far as we know no postage stamps were ever used for revenue purposes.

Fractions of many Colombian stamps of both early and late issues are found cancelled, their use to pay postage having been tolerated even though forbidden by the postal laws and regulations. Many are known to have been made for philatelic purposes.

Counterfeits—formerly believed Reprints.

In the counterfeits of the 5 pesos the ornament at the left of the "C" of "Cinco" is separated from the "C" by a black line, and the ornament at the left of the "C" of "Correos" touches the "C".

In the counterfeits of the 10 pesos the outer line of the double circle containing "10" is broken at the top, below "OS" of "Unidos", and the vertical lines of shading contained in the double circle are very indistinct. There is a colorless dash below the loop of the "P" of "Pesos".

Reprints of the 10c and 20c are much worn. On the 10c the letters "TAVOS" of "CENTAVOS" often touch. On the 20c the letters "NT" of "VIENTE" touch and the left arm of the "T" is too long. Reprints of the 25c, 50c and 1p have the characteristics previously described. The reprints are on white wove or laid paper, on colored papers and in fancy colors. Stamps on green paper only exist as reprints.

(än'té-ō'kyä)

Originally a State, now a Department of the Republic of Colombia. Until the revolution of 1885, the separate states making up the United States of Colombia were sovereign government in their own right. On August 4, 1886, the National Council of Bogotá, composed of two delegates from each state, adopted a new constitution which abolished the sovereign rights of states, which then became departments with governors appointed by the President of the Republic. The eight original states represented at the Bogotá Convention retained some of their previous rights, as management of their own finances, and all issued postage stamps until as late as the year 1904.

The 10c, 50c and 1 peso stamps have been reprinted on bluish white wove paper, while the originals are on yellowish white paper. They are from new plates and most copies show traces of fine lines with which the dies had been defaced. Reprints of the 5c have a large cross at the top. The 10c on laid batonne paper is only known as a reprint.

CONGO, AF.

(kōng'gō)

Belgian Congo

Formerly an independent state in Central Africa which was founded by King Leopold of Belgium and governed by him as an absolute monarchy. World opinion forced his withdrawal and in 1907 the country was (by treaty approved by the King in 1908) annexed to Belgium as a colony. The capital of the colony is Leopoldville. Belgian currency is in use.

COREA, A.

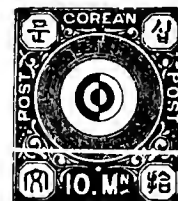

(kô-ré'á)

A peninsula extending from Manchuria between the Yellow Sea and the Sea of Japan. Korea, or Korea, for centuries under Chinese influence declared itself an independent monarchy in 1895 and was so recognized until 1910 when by treaty concluded with Japan, it was annexed to the latter country. By an Imperial rescript of 1919, Korea was to be treated as an integral part of Japan and Korean citizens were to enjoy the same liberties as Japanese. All members of the former Korean Imperial family and members of the Korean Cabinet were granted patents of nobility by Japan and the name of the country was changed to Chosen, its ancient title.

COSTA RICA, C. A.

(kôs'ta rē'kâ)

A republic in Central America, lying between Panama and Nicaragua. Area, 23,000 square miles, about the size of the State of West Virginia. Thousands of square miles of land are covered by virgin forests of cedar, mahogany, rosewood, ebony and other cabinet-woods. The principal industry is agriculture, the products being coffee and bananas, which account for 90% of the exports. The population is approximately half a million, as compared with 1,729,000 for the State of West Virginia. Capital, San José. Monetary unit, the colon.

In 1914 the government sold a large quantity of stamps at very much less than face value. The lot included most regular issues from 1901 to 1911 inclusive, postage due stamps of 1903 and official stamps of 1901-03. These stamps were cancelled with groups of thin parallel bars. They, of course, sell for much less than the prices quoted which are for stamps with regular postal cancellations.

Guanacaste.

(gwü-nä-käs'tü)

A province of Costa Rica on the northwestern coast, being some 4,000 square miles in area. The right of Costa Rica to claim this territory was disputed by Nicaragua and during the "Nineties" Costa Rica allowed residents of this area to purchase Costa Rican postage stamps at a discount from their face value. Such stamps were overprinted "Guanacaste" and their use restricted within that territory.

1885 Regular Issues of Costa Rica, Overprinted "Guanacaste".

CRETE, E.

(krēt)

An island in the Mediterranean Sea to the south of Greece. Formerly, Crete was an autonomous government under the suzerainty of Turkey. After an extended period of civil wars, France, Great Britain, Italy and Russia intervened and declaring Crete an Autonomy, placed it under the administration of Prince George of Greece as High Commissioner. In October, 1908, the Cretan Assembly voted for Union with Greece and in 1913 the Union was formally effected.

CUBA, W.I.

(kū'bà)

A republic in the West Indies. Cuba is the largest of the West Indian islands being 44,215 square miles in area. Tobacco and sugarcane are the principal products, over one-quarter of the world's supply of sugarcane being produced. The annual crop of tobacco averages about 65,000,000 pounds. Capital, Havana. Monetary unit, the peso.

8 REALES PLATA=1 PESO.

100 CENTESIMOS=1 ESCUDO OR PESETA.

1000 MILESIMAS=100 CENTAVOS=1 PESO.

100 CENTS=1 DOLLAR.

Pen cancellations are common on the earlier stamps of Cuba. Stamps so cancelled sell for very much less than those with postmark cancellations.

Issued under Spanish Dominion.

Issues for Cuba and Puerto Rico.

1st retouch

2d retouch

The differences between the stamps of 1882 and the various retouches are as follows:

Original state: The medallion is surrounded by a heavy line of color of nearly even thickness, touching the horizontal line below the word "Cuba" (or "Filipinas", as the case may be); the opening in the hair above the temple is narrow and pointed.

First retouch: The line around the medallion is thin, except at the upper right, and does not touch the horizontal line above it; the opening in the hair is slightly wider and a trifle rounded; the lock of hair above the forehead is shaped like a broad "V" and ends in a point; there is a faint white line below it, which is not found on the stamps in the original state. Owing to wear of the plate the shape of the lock of hair and the width of the white line below it vary.

Second retouch: The opening in the hair forms a semi-circle; the lock above the forehead is nearly straight, having only a slight wave, and the white line is much broader than before.

1905-07 Re-engraved.

The re-engraved stamps of 1905-07 may be distinguished from the issue of 1899 as follows:

ORIGINAL RE-ENGRAVED

1c: The ends of the label inscribed "Centavo" are rounded instead of square.

2c: The foliate ornaments, inside the oval disk bearing the numerals of value, have been removed.

5c: Two lines forming a small right angle have been added in the upper corners of the label bearing the word "Cuba".

10c: A small ball has been added to each of the square ends of the label bearing the word "Cuba".

CZECHOSLOVAKIA, E.

(chĕk'ô.slô.vă'kî.ă)

A republic in Central Europe. The name Czechoslovakia is a combination of the names of the two major peoples forming the present republic, the Slovaks, formerly part of Hungary, and the Czechs, who were at one time a part of the Bohemian Kingdom. Although they remained under Austrian rule for almost two hundred years, they managed to keep their nationality alive under the most trying conditions. After the outbreak of the World War furnished the opportunity they had been long awaiting and even during the hostilities, they were successful in getting recognition from the Allied Powers as a belligerent fighting with the Allies, "a nation whose capital was Washington, D. C., its army in Siberia, its civilians in Hungary and its territory undevoted." In 1939 Czechoslovakia became a German Protectorate. Capital, Praha. Monetary unit, the koruna.

100 HALERU = 1 KORUNA.

Stamps of Austria surcharged "Ceskoslovenska publika", lion and "Cesko Slovensky Stat", "Provisorni Ceskoslovenska Vlada" and Arms, and "Ceskoslovenska Statni Posta" and Arms were used privately. A few of them were passed through the post but all have been pronounced unofficial and authorized by the Postmaster General.

During the occupation of part of Northern Hungary by the Czechoslovak forces, stamps of Hungary were surcharged "Cesko Slovenska Posta", "Ceskoslovenska Statni Posta" and Arms, and "Ceskoslovenska Posta" and Arms. These stamps were never officially issued though copies have passed through the post.

The stamps of the Danish West Indies were superseded by those of the United States in 1917, after the purchase of the islands by the latter country.

DANZIG, E.

(dän'tsik)

A Free State in northern Europe under the protection of the League of Nations. Poland had demanded this territory for a port on the Baltic Sea, but as the population was overwhelmingly German, the area was constituted a "Free" State as a compromise.

NORMAL FRAME INVERTED FRAME

The arabesques in the corners have a main stem and a branch. When the frame is in normal position, in the upper left corner the branch leaves the main stem half way between two little leaflets. In the lower right corner the branch starts at the foot of the second leaflet. When the frame is inverted the corner designs are, of course, transposed.

DOMINICA, W. I.

(dōm'i-nē'ká)

Lying between Martinique and Guadeloupe, this beautiful volcanic island (the largest of the Leeward Islands Colony) is one of the most interesting of the Lesser Antilles. It was discovered on a Sunday (whence the name) in 1493, by Columbus. For a time it was assigned to the native Caribs; the French claimed it several times, but from about 1810 it has been a British possession; and, in 1872, it became a part of the Leeward Islands Colony.

Roughly oval in shape, it is 29 miles long by 16 miles wide, with an area of 291 sq. mi. Population about 37,000. The densely forested mountains rise to 5,314 feet (Mt. Diablotin), near the center. In an old volcanic crater, 2,300 feet above the sea, lies the phantom lake which is one of the wonders of the West Indies; it is about 150 by 100 yards, when filled with the boiling sulphurous water, but at times it remains practically empty; when the several geyser-like vents in the bottom are in action, the surface of the white water is three to five feet higher in the middle than on the margins. Steam and sulphurous vapors usually cover the lake so that rarely can the whole surface be seen. Around one side there are caves which give forth weird sounds as if demons of the nether regions were in mortal combat; two foolhardy explorers met their death, from poisonous gases, therein. A foaming white river intermittently drains this unique lake. Near the southern end of the Island another volcanic area contains a vast deposit of sulphur mixed with pumice-stone sand—perhaps the only deposit of this kind; this deposit has been worked, but the engineering difficulties were almost insurmountable. Several steam vents occur in the midst of a jungle a few miles above Roseau, the capital, on the west side of the Island.

This Island has for many years rivaled Montserrat as the main source of lime juice and lime oil, famous all over the world. Rum is a staple product. One of the best botanic gardens in tropical America is maintained near Roseau. The largest orchard of mangosteen (the best of all fruits) in the Western Hemisphere is on the east coast. Nutmegs yield about four times as well here as in their native habitat the Banda Islands (of the East Indies). Many species of trees and plants are peculiar to the Island—and probably more remain to be discovered in the almost inaccessible "mornes" of the craggy mountains. One of the largest parrots is found only here. Giant frogs, known as "mountain chickens" are a local delicacy.

DUTCH INDIES, O.

(düch in'diz; -déz)

(Netherlands Indies)

Dutch possessions in East Indies, between 6° N. lat. and 11° S. lat., comprising almost all of the Sunda Islands, Western New Guinea, (Java) and others. The islands were conquered by the Dutch East India Company, organized in 1602, and were ruled successfully by this Company for almost two centuries. In 1798 the company dissolved and the possessions were taken over by the mother country. The possessions are divided into two parts for administrative purposes: those which are under direct government control and the native states. The capital is Batavia. Dutch currency is used.

ECUADOR, S. A.

(ēk'wá-dór)

A republic on the northwest coast of South America, bordering on the Pacific Ocean. Was so constituted on May 11, 1830, after the Civil War which separated the original members of the Republic of Colombia, founded by Simon Bolívar, by uniting the Presidency of Quito with the Viceroyalty of New Granada, and the Captaincy of Venezuela. The presidency of Quito became the Republic of Ecuador. The name is Spanish, meaning equator. In area Ecuador is 118,596 square miles, a little larger than the State of Arizona. Hats made of toquilla straw, commonly called Panama hats, are, to a large extent, made in the Ecuadorian cities of Montecristi, Jipijapa and Cuenca. The capital is Quito.

The issues of 1892, 1894, 1895 and 1896 were printed by the Hamilton Bank Note Co., New York, to the order of N. F. Seebeck, who held a contract for stamps with the government of Ecuador. This contract gave the right to make reprints of the stamps and such were subsequently made in some instances, as will be found noted in italic type.

In July, 1902, following the theft of a quantity of stamps during a fire at Guayaquil, the Government authorized the Governors of the various provinces to handstamp their stocks on hand. Many varieties of these handstamps are known and others doubtless exist.

The doubtful claim of these control-marked stamps to rank as major varieties, the difficulty of distinguishing the authorized from the counterfeit and bogus, and the slight interest taken in them by collectors generally have caused us to omit them from this catalogue.

Other control-marks were used in 1907.

The stamps of the 1907 issue frequently have control marks similar to those found on the 1899 and 1901 issues. These marks were applied to distinguish the stamps issued in the various provinces and to serve as a check on local officials.

EGYPT. AF.

(e'jipt)

An independent kingdom in northern Africa, bordering on the Mediterranean and the Red Sea. Egypt's history, ancient and modern, covers a period of more than sixty centuries and many monuments still stand as reminders of the past. Modern Egypt was a part of Turkey, but in 1914 a British Protectorate was declared over the country and the Khedive was deposed in favor of Hussein Kamil under title of Sultan of Egypt. In 1922 the protectorate terminated and, the original sultan having died, the then reigning sultan was declared king of the new monarchy. In area the country is 383,000 square miles. Agriculture is the chief industry and three crops (winter, summer and autumn) are harvested. The chief summer crops are cotton, rice and sugar. Winter crops are cereals and spring crops are chiefly corn, millet, rice and vegetables. Most of the farming is done along the Nile Valley where the soil is exceptionally rich. The capital is Cairo.

ELOBEY, ANNOBON AND CORISCO, AF.

(ā.lō'bā)
(ān'ō.bōn' & kō.ris'kō)

Spanish island possessions on the Guinea coast, western Africa. Elobey consists of Great and Little Elobey. Annobon was ceded to Spain by Portugal in 1778. The name Anno Bon means New Year and was selected as these islands were discovered on New Year's Day in 1473. Corisco is the largest of this group of islands. All are now governed as dependencies of Fernando Po.

EPIRUS, E.
(ê-pî'rûs)

A territory in southeastern Europe formerly belonging to Turkey, but now divided between Greece and Albania. The name is taken from the Greek word meaning "Mainland." For a short period during 1912-13, the northern section of Epirus set up a provisional government which collapsed when Greek Occupation took place in 1914-16.

Stamps of this issue are with or without a monogram in manuscript.

The 21 and 31 are engraved stamps of the 1911 issue, the others are lithographed stamps of the 1912-14 issue.

In addition to the foregoing there exist various issues of which the official character has not been established. They are probably fantasies and, at best, are merely local issues.

We do not recognize stamps of the designs shown below as having been regularly issued for postal purposes.

In each sheet there are two varieties in the overprint: the "1" in "Epirus" omitted and an inverted "L" in place of the first letter of the word.

ERITREA, AF.

(er'-trā'ä)

An Italian Colony in northeast Africa, bordering on the Red Sea. In area the country is some 45,700 square miles, being for the most part a narrow strip of land which cuts off Abyssinia from the sea. The capital is Asmara, a modern city situated some 7,700 feet above sea level. Has been an Italian colony since 1890, but its stamps were superseded in 1938 by those of Italian East Africa.

FIJI, O.

(fē'jē)

A British colony consisting of a group of islands in the South Pacific Ocean (Oceania), lying to the east of the New Hebrides group. Sovereignty was ceded to Great Britain in 1874. The archipelago, which includes some 250 islands, was originally discovered by Tasman in 1643. Later (1769), they were visited by Capt. Cook. A form of government which is closely patterned after the original government of the natives is in force. The capital is Suva.

FINLAND, E.

(fin'länd)

A republic in northern Europe on the Gulfs of Bothnia and Finland. In 1809 Finland was united to the Russian Empire as a Grand Duchy, but in December of 1917 the House of Representatives unanimously declared Finland a sovereign state. Recognition has since been accorded by all powers. Agriculture is the chief industry and the main source of natural wealth lies in the forests of pine and spruce which cover practically one-half of the area of the country. Area, 149,950 square miles. Capital, Helsingfors.

The 2p green, 5p yellow, 10p blue, 20p red, 10M black & yellow, and 10M black & rose, also the 1M with center omitted, are trial colors or printer's waste. None of them was ever sold through the post office.

The designs of Nos. 64 to 69 inclusive and those of the following issue, Nos. 70 to 75, are so much alike that the differences of the majority of them cannot be successfully illustrated or described. However, the two groups may be distinguished by the paper. Nos. 64 to 69 were printed on chalk-surfaced paper, on which a silver coin will make a black mark, while Nos. 70 to 75 were on ordinary unsurfaced paper.

FIUME, E.
(fyōō'mā)

A city and surrounding territory on the Adriatic Sea which formerly was a port of Hungary. Following the Hungarian Revolution, Fiume was claimed by Yugoslavia and Italy. During the discussion, the poet, Gabriele d'Annunzio, organized his legionnaires and seized Fiume along with the islands of Arbe, Carnaro and Veglia, in the name of Italy. Yugoslavia recognized Italy's claim to the port in 1924 and the city was then formally annexed to Italy. Italian stamps are now used.

FRANCE, E.

(frâns)

A Republic in western Europe, bordering on the English Channel, Bay of Biscay, Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. One of the great powers of the world. In area, 212,680 square miles. Agriculture forms one of the chief occupations, a greater portion of land being adaptable for this purpose than in any other European country. Vast quantities of wine are produced. Fisheries are also of major importance as a revenue producer. Capital, Paris. Monetary unit, the franc.

No. 4 was never placed in use, owing to a change in rates after the stamps had been prepared. It was thought to make them available by surcharging them "25c" in red. The result was not satisfactory and the stamps were destroyed. It is claimed that only one copy of this essay exists.

An ungummed sheet of No. 8c was found in 1895 among the effects of M. Hulot, the printer. It was sold to M. Vervelle, by whose name the stamps are known.

Nos. 1, 4, 6, 7 and 13 are identical in designs and colors with French Colonies Nos. 9, 10, 11, 12, and 8. There are numerous shades of each. They can seldom be correctly allocated except by the cancellations.

Three Types of the 20c.

A9—Type I. The inscriptions in the upper and lower labels are small and there is quite a space between the upper label and the circle containing the head; there is also very little shading under the eye and in the neck.

A10—Type II. The inscriptions in the labels are similar to those of the first type, the shading under the eye and in the neck is heavier and the upper label and circle almost touch.

A11—Type III. The inscriptions in the labels are much larger than those of the two preceding types, and are similar to those of the other values of the same type in the set.

The 10c and 35c, type I, were slightly retouched by adding thin white outlines to the sack of grain, the under side of the right arm and the back of the shirt. It is difficult to distinguish the retouches except on clearly printed copies. The white outlines were made stronger on the stamps of type II.

In 1917 the stamps of the 1900-07 types were printed on paper of poor quality, usually grayish and containing bits of fibre. This is termed G. C. (Grande Consommation) paper.

1931-33 Perf. 11, 13.

259 A41 3fr bluish slate 1.75 8

In the re-engraved stamp many lines of the design have been recut and strengthened. On No. 253 the upper line of the arch above the rose window is broken at the top. On No. 259 the line of the arch is unbroken. On No. 253 there are no horizontal shading lines in the central porch. On No. 259 horizontal lines have been added to the shading of the central porch, making it appear darker. On No. 253 the letters of the names of the designer and engraver are weak and irregular. On No. 259 the letters are stronger but appear to be smaller, especially the "G R" at the extreme right.

No. 260 has more and darker clouds in the sky than No. 250 and the buildings, city walls and water have much heavier shading.

On No. 261 the top of the "E" in "POSTES" has no serif. Many lines in the design have been strengthened, especially the numerals of value.

No. 248 measures 36½x21 mm.
No. 262 measures 35½x21½ mm.

On the latter stamp the lines of the foliage and the river banks have been deepened.

The Chinese characters overprinted on Nos. 18 to 31 inclusive are the Chinese equivalents of the French values and, therefore, differ on each denomination. Another printing of these stamps was made in 1904 which differs from the first one principally in the size and shape of the letters in "CHINE" particularly the "H" which is much thinner in the second printing.

CANTON
花 銀 八 厘

A second printing of the 1906 overprints of Canton, Hoi Hao, Kwangchow, Mongtseu, Paekhoi, Tchong King and Yunnan Fou was made in 1908. The inks are grayish instead of full black and vermilion instead of carmine. Our prices are for the cheaper variety which, in most cases, is the second printing.

The 4 and 50c of the 1892-96 issue of Indo-China are known with the above overprint and similarly overprinted for other cities in China. These overprints on these two stamps are always inverted. It is stated that they were irregularly produced and were never issued.

The stamps of types A10, A11 and A12 in the 1923 issue differ from those of 1917 in many details which are too small to be successfully illustrated. In the stamps of 1917 the sky is indicated by ruled lines, in 1923 it is made of minute dots. In the 1917 issue the tablets in the upper corners and at bottom have lines in the backgrounds, in 1923 the backgrounds are of solid color.

The stamps of 1917 were line engraved, those of 1923-27 were printed by photogravure and have in the margin at lower right the inscription "Hélio Vaughrard".

FRENCH CONGO, AF.
(french kōng'gō)

The name French Congo included all of the French possessions in French Equatorial Africa and comprised several territories that are now separate colonies. Until 1903 stamps inscribed "Congo Francais" were used throughout this vast territory. They have since been superseded by those of the various colonies into which this area was subsequently divided.

In 1906 French Congo was divided into Chad, Gabon Middle Congo and Ubangi-Shari.

FRENCH EQUATORIAL AFRICA, AF.

(frēnch ē'kwā-tō'ri-āl āf'ri-kā)

French Equatorial Africa is not the name of a French colony but of an administrative group of colonies in Africa. Stamps of Chad, Gabon, Middle Congo and Ubangi-Shari overprinted "Afrique Equatoriale Francaise" are listed under the names of those colonies.

GAMBIA, AF.

(gām'bl-á)

A British Colony and Protectorate extending from the mouth of the Gambia River on the west coast of Africa along both sides of the river some considerable distance inland. The colony proper is but four square miles in area, consisting chiefly of the Island of St. Mary on which Bathurst, the capital, is located. The protectorate is slightly over 4,000 square miles in area. Internal communication is by river steamers. There are four post offices in the interior and a weekly service is maintained by river mail steamers. A special West African currency is in use.

GEORGIA, E.

(jôr'jyâ ; jôr'ji.â)

Formerly a province of the Russian Empire. In 1936 the Transcaucasian Federation of Soviet Republics, of which Georgia was a part, was split into three autonomous republics; Armenia, Azerbaijan and Georgia, under the Soviet Russian Union. (See Armenia.) The capital of Georgia is Tiflis. The stamps of Russia have been in use since 1923 when the Transcaucasian Federation was formed.

Stamps of the 1919-20 types with parts of the design inverted, sideways, omitted, etc., are not genuine errors. They are fraudulent varieties, surreptitiously made.

There are in the market stamps of the 1919-20 issues with a five line overprint meaning "Pay of the National Guard, 12, 12, 1920", and another set with four line overprint meaning "Recognition of Independence, 27, 1, 1921." It is stated that such issues were contemplated but before they were made the Russian forces occupied the country and the heads of the Georgian Government fled, taking a large quantity of stamps with them. The overprinted stamps were subsequently offered for sale. It has been stated that the overprinting was done in Italy.

The Georgian Consul at Constantinople also had stamps surcharged "Constantinople" and new values. It is not probable that a Consul had authority to make special issues of stamps and Georgia was not one of the nations to which Turkey had granted the privilege of using their own stamps.

GERMAN EAST AFRICA, AF.

(jûr'mân êst äf'ri-kâ)

Formerly a German Colony in east Africa, bordering on the Indian Ocean. During the World War was occupied by British, Belgian and Portuguese military forces. By covenant of the League of Nations the area was mandated to Great Britain. The British ceded to the Belgians the provinces of Ruanda and Urundi which are now attached to the Belgian Congo colony. The Kionga triangle was awarded to the Portuguese and is now part of the Mozambique Colony. The remaining area remains a British Mandate, known as the Mandated Territory of Tanganyika.

GERMANY, E.

(jūr'má-nī)

The German Reich is situated in northern Europe, bordering on the Baltic and North Seas. Formerly an empire with vast colonial territories in Africa and Oceania it comprised one of the great powers of the World. Since the World War all of Germany's colonial possessions have been mandated to various powers and part of the mainland in Europe was awarded to Poland. The capital is Berlin. The monetary unit is the Reichsmark.

OFFICIAL STAMPS.

In 1920 the Official Stamps of Bavaria and Wurtemberg then current were overprinted "Deutsches Reich" and made available for official use in all parts of Germany. They were, however, used almost exclusively in the two states where they originated and we have listed them among the issues of those states.

GIBRALTAR, E.

(jī-brōl'tēr)

A British Crown Colony on the southern coast of Spain comprising the Rock of Gibraltar, a promontory which commands the entrance to the Mediterranean Sea. In the 15th Century Gibraltar, which had previously been a possession of the Moors, joined the Kingdom of Granada. It was captured by the British in 1704 and British sovereignty was subsequently acknowledged in 1713. The total area is 2 square miles. Gibraltar is a naval base of strategic importance. British currency is in use.

GILBERT AND ELLICE ISLANDS, O.

(gil'bért & él'is i'ländz)

A British colony in Oceanica consisting of two groups of islands. The Gilbert group, situated on the Equator, of which Butaritari, Makin, Tarawa, Tamana are the more important, and the Ellice group which lies somewhat to the southeast. The colony also includes Fanning Island, Washington Island, Ocean Island (the capital) and Christmas Island. The islands were annexed by Great Britain in 1892 and formed into the Gilbert and Ellice Islands Colony on direct request of the residents in 1915. The income from the Post Office and Telegraphs is about $5,000 annually.

GOLD COAST, AF.

(göld kōst)

A British Colony and Protectorate on the west coast of Africa, bordering on the Gulf of Guinea, and lying between the French Colonies of Dahomey and Ivory Coast. Was discovered by Portuguese navigators in the 14th Century and was exploited by British and Dutch traders, principally engaged in slave traffic in the 17th Century. Was ceded to Great Britain by convention in 1871. The area of the Colony, including the Protectorate, is about 93,000 square miles. Ashanti and the Northern Territory are also attached to the Colony and for administrative purposes the colony includes the mandated territory of Togoland. West African currency is in use.

GREAT BRITAIN, E.

(grät brit'ên ;-'n)

The oldest and most important member of the British Empire, which in size and importance comprises one of the great powers of the world. The stamps listed under this heading are actually for use in England, Scotland, Wales and the northern portion of Ireland, which is not included in the Irish Free State. The vast colonial Empire which is controlled from this geographical center, includes fully one-quarter of the entire area of the world and furnishes stamp collectors with more than one-third of all postage stamps issued. Capital, London. Monetary unit, the Pound.

12 PENCE=1 SHILLING.
20 SHILLINGS=1 POUND.

Cancellations on the stamps of this country are usually heavy. Prices quoted for used copies are for average cancellations. Lightly cancelled specimens, as a rule, bring more than the quoted prices.

The letters in the corners of the early postage issues indicate position in the horizontal and vertical rows in which that particular specimen was placed.

In the case of illustration A1, this stamp came from the 14th horizontal row (N) and was the 12th stamp (L) from the left in that row. The left corner refers to the horizontal row and the right corner to the vertical row. Thus no two stamps on the plate bore the same combination of letters.

The normal watermark (sometimes termed the "repeated" watermark) has a space between the letters "G. R." The royal cyphers are placed one above the other and usually two appear on each stamp. In the multiple watermark the letters "G. R." touch, the cyphers are smaller and are so placed that those in each succeeding row are below the spaces between the cyphers in the row above.

These stamps were issued for various purposes:

- For general use at the British Post Offices throughout Morocco.
- For use in the Spanish Zone of Northern Morocco.
- For use in the French Zone of Southern Morocco.
- For use in the International Zone of Tangier.

For convenience we have arbitrarily grouped these stamps in four listings according to the coinage expressed or surcharged on the stamps, namely:

- Value expressed in Spanish currency.
- Value expressed in British currency.
- Value expressed in French currency.
- Stamps overprinted with the word "Tangier".

GREECE, E.

(grêe)

(Hellas)

A Kingdom in southeastern Europe bordering on the Ionian, Mediterranean and Aegean Seas. In area is 54,000 square miles or about as large as the State of Arkansas. Until 1829 was a part of the Turkish Empire, but in that year gained independence and was recognized by all powers as a Kingdom. In 1923 the reigning king was forced to abdicate his throne and in 1924 Greece was declared a republic, adopting its historic name as the Hellenic Republic. In 1935 the king was recalled to Greece by a plebiscite of the people. The Kingdom today includes the Aegean islands of Chios, Mytilene (Lesbos), Samos, Icaria (Nicaea), and Lemnos, the Ionian Islands, (Corfu, etc.) Crete, Macedonia, Western Thrace and part of Eastern Thrace, the Mount Athos District and part of North Epirus. The capital is Athens. The monetary unit is the drachma.

100 LEPTA=1 DRACHMA.

63 A60 8d deep violet 30 10
drachma stamp of 1927 re-engraved.

1927. Type I.

1931. Type II.

On the 1927 stamp the Greek letters "L", "A", "D" have sharp pointed tops; the numerals "1" are 1 1/2 mm. wide at the foot, and have a straight slanting serif at the top.

On the 1931 stamp the Greek letters "L", "A", "D" have flat tops; the numerals "1" are 2 mm. wide at the foot and the serif at the top is slightly curved.

There are many minor differences in the lines of the two designs.

1933 Type of 1927 Issue Re-engraved.

501: The design is clearer, especially the numerals of value and the words in the tablets at top and bottom.

1d: The "1" in the lower left corner has no serif at the left of the foot. The lines of the temple have been deepened, so that the details stand out clearer.
